RICHMOND BOY WINS CONTEST

Robert Lyon Victor in Sixth District
Preliminary High School Discussion League.

VERNAL CASADY IS SECOND

Judges, However, Give Adeline Class of Hancock County Same Marks
—Different Views.

Robert Lyon, of Richmond, representing Wayne county, won the sixth district preliminary of the Indiana High School Discussion league at the Graham high school building here last night and is entitled to represent the district at the state contest which will be held at Bloomington Friday night, May 29.

Vernal Casady, of the Rushville high school, tied for second position with Miss Adeline Class, of Wilkinson, who represented Hancock county, according to the decision of the judges, but without the prejudice that would ordinarily be felt here, Casady was clearly entitled to second position. Those who placed the contestants before the judges made known the positions, placed Miss Class next to last.

Leroy Brown, of Shelbyville, who represented Shelby county, was in fourth position and Walter Richardson, of College Corner, Ohio, representing Union county, was given last place.

The interest in the contest was less than it merited. It was one of the most spirited events ever held in the high school. There were less than a hundred people in attendance. All of the speakers were applauded liberally and the local contestant was given a rousing demonstration.

The subject of discussion for all of the five was "The Proposed New Constitution for Indiana." It was explained that each contestant had a right to discuss the topic from any angle they saw fit. This advantage was taken by most of the speakers.

Leroy Brown, who spoke first, held that a new constitution should be adopted. Although he agreed that statewide prohibition, a revival of the taxation system, the initiative and referendum and many other much needed reforms should be incorporated, his main contention for the adoption of a new constitution was the imperative necessity of putting into use the short ballot. This form of voting, he said, was used in 39 states and 320 of the principal cities, as well as in most of the kingdoms of Europe.

In the first place, Brown contended the short ballot would eliminate the political boss, one of the ills of the body politic. He declared that the disgraceful condition of politics keep good men out of politics. In the second place, he argued that better men would be elected if the short ballot were used.

Vernal Casady asserted that the people of Indiana were denied the right of governing themselves under the present constitution which was adopted in 1851. Because of the growth of population and the change in methods the adoption of a new constitution is imperative, Casady contended. He asserted that there was no opportunity to get justice under the present constitution. Casady stated that the farmers of the first constitution protected the people against foreigners, but that those who made the constitution of 1851, the one in use now, reduced the time of residence to six months in order to vote so that a foreigner has now only to declare his intentions. This made suffrage too cheap, the young

YOUNG MAN BREAKS WRIST

Cliff Staples of Near Richland is Hurt by Horse.

Cliff Staples, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Staples, of east of Richland, suffered a broken right arm about noon today, when a horse which he was hitching, became frightened and pushed his arm between a stall and the animal. The arm was broken at the wrist and was a slant break, which makes the injury more painful. Cliff Staples is eighteen years old, and is well known in this city and county.

DEATH COMES TO REBECCA BODINE

Well Known Aged Woman Expires at Home Here After Short Illness—Grandson Survives.

FUNERAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Rebecca Bodine, eighty-eight years old, died shortly before midnight last night at her home, 427 West Third street. Mrs. Bodine had been in ill health for some time but had been in a serious condition only for about a week. Death was caused by apoplexy and a complication. Mrs. Bodine was a well known and highly respected woman. She was a member of the Christian church and was a faithful worker. She was the widow of the late Charles Bodine and was known to all her many friends as Aunt Rebecca. She was born in Bedford county, Pa., March 24, 1826. She is survived by one grandson, Charles Nolan, of Indianapolis.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock at the late residence by the Rev. C. M. Yocum and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

OLD TAVERN PAST THE CENTURY MARK

Log House Still Standing in Jersey
City Was Lodging House For Travelers to Market Years Ago.

WAS ON ROAD TO CINCINNATI

Mrs. Ailee King of Jersey City said today that the old tavern in Jersey city was older than the one in the Webb neighborhood, southwest of the city, described in the Daily Republican yesterday. She said the little log house that stands just south of Noah Matlock's home in Circleville was used as a tavern in the olden days and that it is at least a hundred and ten or fifteen years old. The place has been inhabited by tenants and their families until recently.

Mrs. King's husband, Elisha King, were he living now, would be a hundred years old. He has often told his wife that the little log house was used as a tavern when that road was the trail to the Cincinnati market, which was the principal trading point for this community. Mrs. King says her husband has often related how farmers, driving their hogs through to market afoot, would stay at the tavern all night and keep their hogs in the barn lot. When Mr. King came to this county from Richmond at the age of twenty seven years, the house was then an old one.

GATES SEXTON DIED LAST NIGHT

One-Time Representative of the County in State Legislature Expired of Cerebral Meningitis.

FUNERAL WILL BE SUNDAY

County Bar Association Will Attend
in a Body and Committee is Appointed to Prepare Memorial.

Gates Sexton, a well known attorney of this city, died last night at eleven o'clock after a three weeks' illness. Mr. Sexton suffered an attack of the grippe about three weeks ago and cerebral meningitis developed which caused his death. He was taken to the Sexton sanatorium about a week ago that he might receive careful attention and he passed away there. Mr. Sexton had been unconscious for the last three days and death had been expected.

The death of Mr. Sexton came as a shock to his many friends and relatives. Although his condition was known to be very bad by the immediate family and death had been expected for several days, it nevertheless came as a surprise. Mr. Sexton was fifty-four years old and is survived by one son, William Sexton, his aged mother, Mrs. Anna Sexton, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Z. E. Mauzy, of San Francisco, Cal., and Mrs. S. W. McMahan, also of California.

Gates Sexton was the son of the late Leonidas Sexton, one time lieutenant governor of Indiana. Mr. Sexton was an active Republican and served one term in the state legislature. He was one of the well known members of the Rush County Bar association and for a number of years was the senior partner of the law firm of Sexton and McColgin. Will C. McColgin, the junior member of the firm was a brother-in-law of Mr. Sexton and died November 26, 1913.

Gates Sexton was born in Rushville, August 27, 1859 and had lived here all his life. He was graduated from the local schools and attended Wabash College, Crawfordsville, for about three years. While in college he took an active part in college life and was a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. On leaving college Mr. Sexton took up the practice of law and in this profession was very successful. Mr. Sexton was a lover of outdoor sports and was the varsity pitcher one year while in college. Mr. Sexton suffered the misfortune of losing his wife on October 22, 1912. On July 13, 1913, his daughter, Miss Suanna Sexton, was called by death and then his brother-in-law, Will C. McColgin.

At a meeting of the Rush County Bar association held this morning and presided over by Judge John D. Megee arrangements were made to attend the funeral services in a body. A committee composed of Judge Douglas Morris, A. L. Gary and T. M. Green was appointed to prepare a memorial to Mr. Sexton. The association will meet Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in the court house to hear the report and attend the funeral in a body.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the late residence in North Morgan street by the Rev. A. D. Batchelor, pastor of the St. Paul's M. E. church, of which Mr. Sexton was a member.

Lon A. Havens will begin Monday to drive the bus line, which was formerly driven by Berlin Caldwell, who will retire from the business. The bus line was only recently sold to John S. Davis.

CLASS OF 37 TO BE GRADUATED

List of High School Seniors Who
Will Receive Diplomas This
Year is Announced Today.

COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY 29

Bishop Anderson of Cincinnati Will Deliver Class Address—Other
Commencement Week Events.

The list of graduates for the 1914 class of the Rushville high school, as announced today by J. H. Scholl, superintendent of schools, contains thirty-seven names. This is one of the largest classes ever graduated here. It is stated that a few of the thirty-seven have not completed their work and that the diplomas will be withheld until the work is completed.

The commencement week program has been completed. The baccalaureate services for the class will be held in the Main Street Christian church Sunday evening, May 24. The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church, will deliver the sermon. As is the usual custom, all the churches of the city will unite in this service. This is the beginning of the commencement week program.

The alumni banquet and entertainment, which this year was made a part of the commencement week program, will be held on the evening of May 28 in the basement of the First Presbyterian church. The members of the Senior class will be invited to attend this function. The banquet this year promises to surpass any yet given and will be different from those held in the past in that an entertainment will be given instead of the usual toasts.

The commencement exercises will be held at eight o'clock, Friday evening, May 29, in the Main Street Christian church. Bishop W. F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, will deliver the commencement address. Bishop Anderson was here last fall at the Methodist conference and made many friends, who will be glad to hear that he is to deliver the address. Bishop Anderson is a finished speaker and the school board did well to secure a man of his ability to deliver the class address.

The Junior class has issued invitations for the annual Junior-Senior reception. The reception will be held next Friday evening in the Graham school. The final examinations for the Seniors will be held next Thursday.

The 1914 class is composed of the following members:

John Kennard Allen, Robert Anderson, Alleine Margaret Budd, Lois Frances Bussell, Lava Alice Bowen, Marguerite Cartmel, Vernal Casady, Pauline Cowing, Francis Ivan Coyne, Geneva Adele Crull, Osro Lewis Farthing, Leah Adelle Flint, Sallie Marie Foster, Amelia Esther Geraghty, Lucile Charman Gray, Harry K. Green, Pauline Hall, Robert Arnold Helm, Fredericka Hiner, Louis Chase Hiner, Staey Hinkle, Mary Ruth Innis, Maude Muller Jones, Margaret Mary Kelley, Don B. Looney, Jean McClanahan, Katie Madden, Mildred Myers, Florence Marie Newhouse, Helen Norris, John Herman Sampson, James Joseph Shannahan, Orlando Augustine Simmes, Mary Lucile Smith, Byron C. Wainwright, Forest Logan Webb, Wilbur Van Woollen.

A nine-pound baby boy was born to the wife of George Smith, living four miles east of the city, late yesterday afternoon.

DIES AT COUNTY ASYLUM

J. A. McRoberts Succumbs From Complication of Diseases.

J. A. McRoberts, 63 years old, died last night at seven o'clock at the county asylum after a several week's illness from dropsy and a complication of diseases. Mr. McRoberts had been an inmate of the county asylum for the past five weeks. He had been in a serious condition for the past week and death was expected. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. John Lawrence of Arlington. Burial took place this afternoon at four o'clock in East Hill cemetery. Brief services were held at the grave.

DEMOCRATS NAME THEIR DELEGATES

Holding Township Convention Today
to Pick Men Who Will Nominate
The County Ticket.

MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

The Democrats of Rush county were busy last night and today selecting delegates to the county convention to be held here June 6. The Democrats of Rushville township met last night in the court house and selected eighty delegates. Charles Bales presided at this meeting and Dr. Frank Smith acted as secretary. The convention was held in the assembly room and then the men met by precincts and named the delegates.

Other meetings last night were Walker township, Orange, Jackson, Center, Union and Richland. A crowd of possibly one hundred attended the meeting here. The rest of the townships met either today or will meet tonight to select their delegates.

ASSESSORS' WORK CLOSED LAST NIGHT

They Were to Report to the County
Assessor Today so he May Determine Property Value.

COUNTY REVIEW BOARD NEXT

The work of the township assessors for the year came to a close last night. Today the officials were to report to the county assessors, John F. Moses and in turn he may determine the value of the personal property in Rush county. Many of the assessors have been through with their work several days, but none of them has reported.

The assessors are given until the 15th of May to complete their work. They are supposed to have it finished on time and to immediately turn in their books to the county assessors so that he may prepare them for the meeting of the county board of reviews. This board consists of the county auditor, county treasurer, county assessor and two men appointed by the circuit court judge.

MORE SALOONS (By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., May 16.—Possibly the "Drys" here would have prospered more had they stayed away from the polls entirely during the recent option election. As it is, they met defeat but piled up so large a vote that on the strength of it Richmond gets three more saloons.

NOT TO INJURE MEDIATION

Brazilian Minister Reports Vice-
Consul Silliman is Safe and on
Way to Vera Cruz Today

(BY JOHN E. NEVIN.)

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, May 16.—The murder of Private Parks of Wabash, Ind., admittedly slain by Mexican Federals without trial although captured in uniform at Vera Cruz, will not be followed by acts of reprisal at this time. The state department made this very clear today.

Although the war department is aflame over the killing, which has created a grave situation, Secretary Bryan insists that it is merely another outrage for which Huerta is responsible, which will be taken up in final settlement. Bryan supports the President firmly and nothing will interfere with mediation.

Secretary Bryan declared today his representation to the Huerta government in the Parks case "are urgent." While he would not specify the exact nature of these demands he declared they bore solely on the point of the Huerta government's persistent withholding of information.

There was a marked relief today when the news was received from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City that Vice-consul Silliman is safe and on his way home to Mexico City from Saltillo where he was held captive. The dispatch stated Silliman was due to arrive either last night or today.

Tuxtam, 60 miles from Tampico, fell into the hands of the Rebels Thursday. Refugees who have the news at Vera Cruz today said Generals Aguila and Blanco were the captors.

HELD TRACK MEET

(By United Press.)

Laporte, Ind., May 16.—High schools in the Northern Indiana Athletic League sent their teams here today to compete in the annual track and field meet. Schools represented are Mishawaka, Valparaiso, Gary, Hammond, Crown Point, Michigan City, and LaPorte. The annual oratorical contest will be held tonight.

Sand is shipped from Seattle to Honolulu for concrete making.

Put Your Signs Where People See Them

Merchants and manufacturers can read this message with equal advantage.

When you advertise you want to reach the public.

What do they, the people, read every day? What do you yourself read every day?

Any way you look at this question the answer is always the same—THE NEWSPAPERS.

The modern daily newspaper with its definite concentrated circulation is the best medium in the world today for getting news of goods or service before the buying public.

Nothing takes its place—as many have already proved for themselves.

If You Were Indicted for Murder==

would you care to be tried before a jury whose minds were on other affairs and who would not listen to your testimony? The chances are you would want men who would give their whole attention to your case. You may never be tried for murder but the same proposition applies to every business transaction you make. When you want to buy an article go to the man that specializes that article. Now for instance if you need a vehicle of any kind—that is where I ring in. That is why I can give you better vehicle values, better styles and better service. My whole time and attention is centered on one thing. Every day in the year, Mr. Vehicle Buyer, I am working to obtain better prices and better style for you to make your selections from. Place your business with a man who creates new styles and is working at the business every day to give you satisfaction. I want your vehicle business and don't you think it is a better proposition to place it with me than with some one that is selling buggies as a side issue?

TO EXPERIMENT IN 100 COUNTIES

The Department of Agriculture Will Study Road Conditions in Cooperation with Local Officials

WOULD LIKE TO FIND DEFECTS

Department Will Pick Out Points
of Excellence Which May be Used
Elsewhere to Advantage

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Washington, May 16.—Detailed studies of local road building systems in 100 counties are now being carried on by the Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the State highway departments and local road authorities.

The purpose of this study is to discover the points of excellence and defects in existing local methods of building and maintaining roads which will aid the State authorities to put local road management on a systematized basis. The co-operating State authorities have been asked to designate counties that present typical and exceptional features as to topography, character of road materials, methods of construction and maintenance, administrative organization, methods of road financing, and traffic conditions. From these lists 100 counties will be selected, and in these counties the Division of Road Economics will make intensive studies.

This investigation is prompted by the fact that there is at present very little knowledge as to the most effective and economical methods by which a county can develop its roads. At present the methods of financing local road improvements vary from calling on farmers for a certain number of days labor in lieu of a road tax, or the use of county prisoners in road construction, to bond issues or maintenance of roads from dram-shop license funds.

The Department will study all of these systems with the view to determining what system or combination of systems works best in actual practice.

There is, more over, at present no standard system of keeping account for road building and maintenance, and as a result, while some counties know to a penny the purpose for which money was spent, others have no definite check or reporting system. Among various counties with the same conditions, cost for excavation or other labor is anything but uniform, and many counties, because of the absence of definite knowledge fail to use local and cheap materials and construct roads which are unnecessarily expensive for their purpose, or which will wear out before the bond issues are redeemed. The investigation will include a careful study of the use of convict labor in road construction.

In connection with the scientific study, the Department's highway engineers will advise freely with local officials as to improvements, and thus give each county visited the advantage of direct co-operation, engineering supervision and assistance.

These investigations, it is believed will yield important economic data bearing especially on the benefits and burdens of road improvement and showing the extent to which financial outlay under given typical conditions is justifiable.

The heads of State highway departments are manifesting great interest and are co-operating cordially in this work. These data when obtained will be published and thus made accessible to all county and state road officials.

FOLLOWS PLAN USED IN INDIANA

Kansas City Building its School System Along Lines of This State
—Copied Gary Building.

IT IS CONSIDERED A MODEL

(By United Press.)

Kansas City, Mo., May 16.—This city is following the lead of Indiana in its school system. As a model for its newest school buildings it has copied the buildings erected in Gary, Ind. At the laying of the corner stone of the new McCoy school in accordance with the most approved plan in the Hoosier state. Several similar buildings will be erected.

The plans include fresh air class rooms, a roof playground for the pupils in the kindergarten classes, showers and a gymnasium.

The gymnasium 62 by 42, will be in front of the building on the ground floor. There will be no basement. Two large rooms equipped with shower bath adjoins the gymnasium.

Directly over the gymnasium on the second floor will be the auditorium with two fresh air classrooms adjoining.

Another feature will be the ventilated wardrobes. The clothing will be suspended from rods and exposed on all sides to the air. The building will cost $75,000.

ROOSTER DAY IN KENTUCKY

Poultry Men of the Blue Grass State
to Conserve Egg Supply

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 16.—The Little Red Rooster is persona non grata with poultry experts of the Department of agriculture. And acting on the suggestion of the Department of Agriculture today was named "rooster day" throughout Kentucky. The program from today on and for several months, during which season the egg market is most plentiful, Kentucky poultrymen have banded together and agreed to sell only roosters for food instead of hens and chickens so that the egg crop may thereby remain unimpaired through the slaughter of hens for feed as heretofore.

IN GREEK PAGEANT.

Washington, May 16.—Twelve hundred school children will participate in "The Fire Regained" a Greek pageant which opens for a week here tonight. This drama is given under the auspices of Washington business organizations, and the school children have been rehearsing for about six weeks.

BEVERLY BOYNE.

SCENE FROM "THE DANCE OF DEATH."

DISCOVERING that the white man who had married her according to the rites of her people is seated in a box of the theater with another girl, a dancer from the south sea islands, who has scored a tremendous success upon the American stage, kills herself in the climax of her dance, aptly named by her tribe "The Dance of Death."

This is the situation which occurs in the Kalem drama, "The Dance of Death," just released.

Beverly Boyne is becoming one of the most popular performers on the films and has a host of admirers throughout the country.

"Knockabout Kelly; A Magician In Spite of Himself," is the name of a new comedy picture. Kelly watched a water discoverer at work and saw a spring brought to light. Waiting an opportunity, he stole the diviner's hazel stick. The theft brought him considerable trouble. Wherever Knockabout went water burst forth. So it went on until at length the police appeared.

"A Boarding House Romance" (Edison), by Bliss Milford, is brimful of comedy. Effie's mother, the boarding house keeper, wanted her to marry Daube, the artist, who was painting her portrait. Effie loved Jimmy, another boarder. Daube announced his engagement to Effie, and mamma's portrait was exhibited. But Jimmy and Effie had doctored the portrait, and mother broke it over Daube's head.

"Bobby and the Banker" is a very interesting and amusing comedy. Bobby and the servants are sitting at home, the parents being out, when a telegram arrives saying that through secret information they are advised that the banker, who has hold of the family securities, is about to run away with the securities. Little Bobby calls on the banker, who is making great haste to pack up the securities before leaving. Bobby then pretends that he has lost his pocketbook in the house and persuades the banker to go out of the room and find it. Meanwhile Bobby puts a very powerful adhesive to the chair, and the banker, returning with the pocketbook, sits on the chair and is unable to remove himself. Bobby then insults the banker, who chases him out of the house. A bulldog passing attacks the banker, and Bobby has him arrested.

Didn't Watch His Watch.

In a subway crowd not long ago a New York man was "touched" for his watch. The watch was not intrinsically valuable, but the New York man wanted it back for sentimental reasons and inserted divers advertisements in the papers offering $50 for the return of the watch and "no questions asked."

The "dip" who had "lifted" the watch saw the advertisements and concluded to take the $50. He called on the New York man, handed him the timepiece and demanded the reward.

The owner of the watch was only too happy to give it to him. After examining the watch he returned it to his pocket and handed over five ten-dollar bills. The "dip" pocketed the money and departed. There was little said.

A few minutes later the New York man reached for his watch.

But it was gone.—New York Tribune.

Restfulness of Flowers.

Flowers in the home divert the mind and rest the weary eyes of the housewife and mother.

A bouquet in the sickroom aids in keeping the mind off the disease and often starts the brain on a new channel of thought that puts the patient on the road to recovery.

Flowers in the office or on the desk of the weary clerk or stenographer will produce such a telling effect that by actual comparison more work is accomplished by those whose eyes and brains are rested by the presence of those gifts from nature.

Artists visit the parks and gardens to study the flowers, and their orbs are wonderfully toned up by the refreshing glimpses of the colors in nature, and no artist has ever been successful who does not study colors in the beautiful flowers.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Bad Disease.

A well known railroad president once took occasion to visit a small southern town to enjoy the excellent fishing near by. He carefully concealed his identity and was consequently snubbed by a "leading citizen" with whom he attempted to strike up a conversation on the banks of the stream. When leaving he secured the services of an aged black to carry his things from the hotel to the depot. There the departing visitor caught sight of the man who had given him the cold shoulder. "Poor Smith!" he said, smiling amiably. "Suffering from an aggravated attack of egotism." "Dat so?" said Uncle Silas in surprise, following his gaze. "He done lived heah more'n twenty years an' Ah neva knowed afore dat he wuz ailin'."—Argonaut.

Bless the Baby.

Bless this little heart, this white soul that has won the kiss of heaven for our earth.

He loves the light of the sun, he loves the sight of his mother's face.

He has not learned to despise the dust and to banker after gold.

Clasp him to your heart and bless him.

He has come into this land of a hundred crossroads.

I know not how he chose you from the crowd, came to your door and grasped your hand to ask his way.

He will follow you, laughing and talking and not a doubt in his heart.

Keep his trust, lead him straight and bless him.—From "The Crescent Moon," by Rabindranath Tagore.

Fox Fire.

Fox fire generally appears on a white oak stump which has decayed from within, so that the whole interior glows like a crucible. At times it seems to vibrate and change like the northern lights on a small scale, but it is difficult to be sure of this.—"A Farmer's Notebook."

Two of a Kind.

"Oh, George," sighed the lovesick maiden, "I'm sure I'm not worthy to be your wife."

"Well," replied George wearily, "I'm not worthy to be your husband, so we're just about evenly matched."—Philadelphia Press.

Beats the Carpenter's Record.

The discovery of a carpenter whose father, grandfather and great-grandfather practiced the same craft has been commented upon in several newspapers and at Lamberhurst, in Kent, there is a family who have been innkeepers for four centuries. In countries where the caste system prevails such a record would be thought utterly insignificant. Grant Duff notes in his diary the answer made by a punkah puller in Madras to an English lady who suggested that he might improve his position. "Memsahib, my father pulled a punkah, my grandfather pulled a punkah, all my ancestors for 4,000,000 ages pulled punkahs, and before that the god who founded our caste pulled a punkah for Vishnu."—London Chronicle.

The Wearying Chase.

Tommy could not understand why his teacher thought that the following paragraph from his composition on "A Hunting Adventure" lacked animation and effectiveness:

"Pursued by the relentless hunter, the panting gazelle sprang from cliff to cliff. At last she could go no farther. Before her yawned the chasm and behind her the hunter."—Youth's Companion.

Earthquakes.

Earthquakes are subterranean disturbances propagated through the earth in a series of elastic waves. How they originate is not clearly shown. Many are associated with volcanic action, while just as many occur without any evidence of such association.

The suits of Charles A. Frazee, receiver for A. P. Walker, against Rosa B. Pearson, were dismissed yesterday in the Shelby circuit court. They were sent there from this county on a change of venue. The cases were to set aside the sale of cattle and some stock. The action had been expected as the cases here had all been taken from the docket.

The damage suit of Lon Conner, of Connersville, against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company has been sent to Henry county on a change of venue from Fayette county. Conner demands $6,000 for personal injuries.

Amusements

The Princess will show the usual three pictures tonight. The first is a comedy entitled "A Pair of Frauds." Lillian Burns and James Morrison are featured. The second is a drama "The Long Cold Night." Ruth Stonehouse is shown in this one. The last is a drama entitled "The Countess and the Burglar." Monday night the two reel Vitagraph feature "An Officer and a Gentleman" will be shown.

"The Twin's Double" is the title of the three reel feature at the Gem tonight. It is a gold seal 101 Bison drama, telling a thrilling detective story. Grace Cunard and Francis Ford are featured. It is said to be a remarkable picture and some of the scenes are very sensational.

This is a remarkable picture, showing Miss Cunard playing three parts in one picture. You will see her in three different places at one time. This picture shows scenes of the underworld, scenes in an opium dive, in the filthy back alleys of a great tenement district, and then we are suddenly shifted to a beautiful home and ball-room scene. The story ends with some very sensational scenes and will be liked by all.

A Whole Straw Stack

Straws keep coming in which indicate which way the wind is blowing. The latest is from California, the state where, the last election, the Republican party machinery was absorbed by Governor Hiram Johnson, Theodore Roosevelt's running mate. The registration there will conclude July 1. It began the first day of this year. Despite the untiring efforts of Johnson and other Progressives to keep the Republican party dead, the registration returns show a remarkable change of sentiment. In California the people have been getting the warm end of the so called Progressive progression and they have their money's worth.

The Muncie Press produces figures to show that on March 16 the official return of the registration in California showed: Republican 236,769; Progressive, 127,785; Democratic, 127,383; Socialist, 33,062; Prohibition, 20,633. In two-thirds of the counties of the state, the Republicans are first. The indications are that the registration, when completed, will show a Republican plurality of 200,000. The Republicans have already eighty thousand more votes in California than Johnson received for governor in 1912. The vote for Taft in the state in 1912 was 3,914, of which nearly half was cast in Los Angeles county. Roosevelt received 283,610 votes and Wilson 283,436. The California registration indicates such a preponderance of republican sentiment as had never existed in that state before. The highest Republican plurality ever achieved in an election in California was 89,017 in 1904 and in an off year 40,098 in 1894.

Railroad Conditions

To those who doubt that the railroad business, the best barometer of conditions any season of the year, is not slumping considerably, the following from the Frankfort Times is presented:

More than half the men employed in the Clover Leaf shops here and many employes of the railroad at the shops in Delphos, Ohio, and Charleston, Ill., were laid off at the close of the working hours yesterday evening and were notified that the working forces would not be increased before July 1.

The action of the road in laying the men off did not come as a surprise to many of the railroad men although the lay-off was not expected to take place until the twenty-fourth of the month, when the semi-monthly pay roll will be completed.

Throughout the country the railroad shops have been closed with only a small number of men working to keep up running repairs or with half the regular forces but the Clover Leaf has succeeded in keeping all of its employes at work until yesterday when it became necessary to cut down the regular number of employes on account of the lack of traffic that is being handled.

In the shops here there is plenty of work to be done, the employes assert, but in the traffic department business has been below the average and not sufficient to justify the maintenance of the shops with a full working force.

According to railroad men the shortage in freight shipments is due to the fact that many of the large industries throughout the country are closed down and with the factories closed the shipping of large consignments of products to the various markets has ceased.

The value of the Chamber of Commerce comes to our attention very frequently. Without an organization of some sort this week, Rushville could not have offered any sort of a welcome to the Cincinnati trade boosters who visited our community. Had not Rushville made some organized effort through an association of a nature like the Chamber of Commerce, there could have been no showing and Rushville would have received a black mark on the tally book of the "Queen City" pilgrims. As it was Rushville got the credit of being a live, wide-awake city. That impression was made on the minds of a hundred Cincinnati business men. The name Rushville, Ind. will always recall to them the cordial reception they received here and the lively interest in the city that was everywhere evident. We can't afford to be without the Chamber of Commerce.

ALIMONY OF
$10,000 ASKED

Mrs. Ruth B. Adams of Lewisville
Brings Sensational Divorce
Suit Against Stephen B. Adams.

OWNER OF ADAMS PRODUCE CO.

Defendant, Who Plaintiff Says Accuses Her of Being False is Related and Well Known Here..

Stephen B. Adams, a wealthy farmer and poultry dealer living near Lewisville, and owner of the Adams Produce company of this city, was made the defendant in a sensational divorce suit yesterday in the Henry county circuit court. Ruth B. Adams, the plaintiff, demands $10,000 alimony in addition to an allowance for attorney fees and expenses in the case.

Both parties in the suit are well known here. Mr. Adams is the father of Mrs. Walter Thomas of this city. Mr. Thomas is manager of the produce company, which Mr. Adams owns here. The plaintiff is the second wife of the defendant.

According to the complaint the couple were married October 20, 1910, and separated Thursday.

Mrs. Adams claims that her husband falsely accused her of being intimate with other men. The accusations, she claims were false and were known to be false by her husband when he made them. She also claims that her husband, at times, indulges in the drinking of intoxicating liquors and has a violent temper and swears at her and abuses her. She claims he has scolded her, and has made it impossible for her to live with him any longer.

Mrs. Adams states that she has no property or money or income except $60 a year, and no means of earning a livelihood. She asserts that at the time of her marriage she was a widow of a Union soldier and that she was receiving a pension of $12 a month which ceased at her marriage.

Mrs. Adams claims that her husband owns 340 acres of valuable farm land in Henry county and is the owner of a profitable poultry business in Rushville as well as property to the value of $50,000 and has an income of $5,000 a year. She asks for $300 attorney fees and $10,000 alimony.

500 FEDERALS ARE SURPRISED TODAY

Desperate Fighting Follows Sudden Appearance of Rebel Scouts Following Fall of Monclova.

VILLA RE-ENFORCES THEM

Paredon, Mexico, May 16.—Surprised by Rebel scouts, a body of 500 Federals who escaped from Monclova late yesterday is concerned today in the sand hills north of here. Reports say a desperate struggle is in progress today. Sixteen fleeing Federals were killed by the scouts as they approached the place. The rear guard of Villa's army stopped its march to Saltillo today and re-enforced the scouts. The sudden fall of Monclova was a surprise here.

Feminism and Masculine Co-operation Important to the Best Development of the Race

By Mrs. ELIZABETH TOWNE, Author

A WOMAN should tell a man everything that has been in her life before she marries him. If he is willing and eager to take her in spite of her mistakes, her sins, then he is a real man and will make a real husband.

FEMINISM AND MASCULINISM ARE EQUALLY IMPORTANT TO THE BEST DEVELOPMENT OF THE RACE. BUT WHAT IS EVEN MORE IMPORTANT IS CO-OPERATION BETWEEN THE TWO.

A woman thinks in terms of humanity. A man thinks in terms of dollars and cents. Life is the greatest motive force for women. Organization and intellect are the motive forces of the man.

JUST BECAUSE YOUR HUSBAND FORGOT TO BRING YOU A BUNCH OF VIOLETS ON YOUR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS NO REASON WHY YOU SHOULD WALLOW IN A SLOUGH OF SENTIMENTALITY. MAKE SENTIMENT SERVE YOU INSTEAD OF WEIGHING YOU DOWN.

Woman will gradually return to the happy days when she was the perfect homemaker, grooming her husband for the battle of life and sending him forth in condition to win for their family and their home.

Courts Criticised and Abused For Administering Law as They Find It

By Presiding Justice INGRAHAM of Appellate Division, Supreme Court, New York State

SPEAKING for the profession at large, I think the time has come when we should in no uncertain tone testify to our respect and confidence in the courts of this state and ESPECIALLY IN THE COURT OF APPEALS. The courts have been criticised and abused because they administered the law as they found it, the law which had been adopted and developed by the people themselves. For the last two years the people of this state and the people of the whole continent of America, from Canada to Patagonia, have been treated to CRITICISMS OF THE DECISIONS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS OF THIS STATE as though these decisions were the enunciation of some monstrous doctrine.

LET US TAKE THE IVES CASE, DECIDED TWO YEARS AGO BY THE COURT OF APPEALS AND WHICH RAISED SUCH A STORM OF RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION. THERE THE COURT POINTED OUT THAT THE PROPOSED EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY ACT VIOLATED CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION WHICH THE PEOPLE HAD ADOPTED. WHEN THIS FACT WAS CALLED TO THE ATTENTION OF THE PEOPLE THERE WAS NO DIFFICULTY WITHIN TWO YEARS IN HAVING THE CONSTITUTION SO AMENDED IN A REGULAR AND PROPER WAY THAT THE LAW WHICH THE PEOPLE WANTED COULD BE PASSED, AND ALREADY SUCH A LAW IS ON THE STATUTE BOOKS OF THE STATE. THAT ANY CONSIDERABLE PORTION OF THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE SHOULD SERIOUSLY PROPOSE TO UPSET THE SYSTEM UNDER WHICH THE LAWS HAVE BEEN ADMINISTERED SINCE THE STATE WAS FIRST ORGANIZED BECAUSE THEY DO NOT APPROVE OF THIS DECISION SEEMS TO ME TO BE MONSTROUS.

Radium Claims Pile Up; Two Grams All We Have In United States

By GIFFORD PINCHOT, President National Conservation Association

SEVERAL weeks have elapsed since a joint resolution was introduced in congress to reserve to the people of the United States the radium bearing ores on the public lands. During this period of needless and inexcusable delay NOT LESS THAN FIVE HUNDRED ADDITIONAL CLAIMS HAVE BEEN LOCATED BY PRIVATE PERSONS, so that their content of radium—the only medical remedy for cancer—may be exploited for private profit instead of being used for the public good. This was the object of those who caused the delay.

It is officially estimated that the loss to the government on the radium needed for its hospitals and the profit to the grabbers, if the grabbers have succeeded fully in their purpose, will be more than one million five hundred thousand dollars. But this is the smallest part of the loss.

AT PRESENT AT LEAST HALF OF OUR RADIUM GOES ABROAD. OUR GOVERNMENT HOSPITALS NEED THIRTY GRAMS OF RADIUM AT ONCE, WHILE TWO GRAMS IS ALL WE HAVE IN THE UNITED STATES TODAY. THERE ARE CONSTANTLY IN THIS COUNTRY OVER TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND PERSONS SUFFERING FROM CANCER, OF WHOM NOT LESS THAN SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DIE EACH YEAR. ONE WOMAN DIES OF CANCER OUT OF EVERY EIGHT THAT DIES AT AGES OVER THIRTY-FIVE AND ONE MAN OUT OF EVERY TWELVE.

MICHIGAN WINS TODAY

University Team Defeats Aggies by Score of 6 to 0.

(By United Press.)

Lansing, Mich., May 16.—The University of Michigan's baseball team added to its long string of victories today when it met and defeated the Michigan Aggies 6 to 0. Ferguson, twirling for the University squad, allowed only a four hits and never was in serious danger.

TRACK MEET OPENS AT ONE

Indianapolis High Schools Are Doped to Win State Event.

(By United Press.)

Crawfordsville, Ind., May 16.—When the State High school track meet opened here at one o'clock this afternoon the two Indianapolis high schools were doped to lead the field. Crawfordsville and Wingate appeared strong. Bands were playing and students parading. Delegations were here from the Capitol.

STAR PITCHERS HOODOOED.

Nearly Always Lose Opening Game of the Season.

Baseball dope is a very peculiar thing. Looking over the major league openings for the last ten years one finds that the Pirates, who in this time have won only one flag, have landed eight of their opening controversies, and so have the Braves, who generally have finished in the ruck. The Naps, also nonpennant winners, have done splendidly at the kickoff, capturing seven contests. The White Elephants, with a record of four pennants in ten years, have broken away in front just six times, and the Giants, who have annexed five gonfalons, have had only an even split in their proff contests. The McGrawites, moreover, have been blanked on opening day on four occasions. Six times have the Cardinals had to be content with one tally in their first championship contests.

Star pitchers do not always fare well when real hostilities commence. Cy Young was the twirler for the Boston Red Sox in four of their openers, and he won only one. Joe Wood's record on getaway day shows one victory, two defeats and one tie. Nap Rucker has gone down to defeat three times when the championship lid was lifted and only once has led the Superbas to a triumph in an opening game. It was when G. Napoleon was operating on the mound in 1912 that the Giants set a record for runs on the first day of the season by accumulating eighteen.

A luckless individual at the start of campaigns has been Arthur Fromme of the Giants. He worked in three openers for the Reds and one for the Cardinals, and defeat was his portion on each occasion.

Irving Melrose Young (Cy II) was delegated three times while with the Braves to pitch the opening battle, and on all three occasions he came through with wins. Once he let his opponents down with a safety. That trick also has been turned on opening day by Walter Johnson, the car winner last season; Frank Paderevski Smith and George Mullin.

Johnson has won two of the three games he has pitched on opening day. So have Jack Coombs, Eddie Plank, Howard Camnitz, Addie Joss and Jeff Overall. Christy Mathewson copped both of the proff contests in which he toiled, as did Babe Adams.

These figures show the way the major league clubs have fared on the opening days of the last ten years and the number of runs they have acquired:

TEN YEARS' RECORD OF OPENINGS.	W.	L.	Tied.	P.C.	Runs.

INDIANA MAN IS VICTORIOUS

Butler College Orator Wins Interstate

Oratorical Contest Held at Earlham College.

SEVEN STATES IN THE EVENT

Wisconsin Man Ranks Second and

Kansas Entrant Finishes Third

—Butler Holds Celebration.

Richmond, Ind., May 16.—Lawrence W. Bridge of Butler college won the fortieth annual interstate oratorical contest here last night, speaking on the subject, "Solving Principles of World Federation." Representatives of the other states in the contest ranked as follows: Second, Wisconsin; third, Kansas; fourth, Iowa; fifth, Ohio; sixth, Michigan; seventh, Missouri.

In his style of delivery and complete mastery of the situation Bridge clearly outclassed any one that appeared on the platform. He was third on the program and throughout his speech he held the closest attention of his audience.

One hundred Butler students, half of them coeds, who accompanied the victorious orator, paraded through the streets of Richmond after the contest, shouting and singing as they went. They took possession of the Westcott Hotel, lined around the foyer and filled the lobby. They continued yelling and singing in the hotel, and were allowed the freedom of the town on their rampage. There probably will be no classes at Butler College today, as the day will be spent in celebrating.

Norman Cawley, representing Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., who won second place, spoke on "The Worth of the Jew."

The order of the other orators is as follows: Third, John W. Scott, "The Toll of Industrialism," Fairmount College, Wichita, Kas.; fourth, Stanley Newell, "The Solving Principle of Industry," Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant, Ia.; fifth, Robert G. Peden, "An International Delusion," Hiram College, Hiram, O.; sixth, Robert J. Hamilton, "The Law's Delay," Olivet College, Olivet, Mich.; seventh, Theodore F. Lentz, "The Scarred Hero of the Dark Continent," Park College, Parkville, Mo.

LADDIE LINK WILL BE OUT IN UNIFORM

Will be Ready to Relieve Patterson

Should he go Bad—Arcadians

Expects Battle.

MAY LAND LINK FOR SEASON

Everything is in readiness for the game tomorrow with the Indianapolis Specials. The game will be called promptly at two-thirty o'clock. Patterson will start the game in the box for the Arcadians. Laddie Link, one time pitcher for the Indianapolis American association team has promised Manager Fisher that he would come here tomorrow and if he comes he will be out in uniform. Link will talk business to the local management tomorrow and he may be seen the rest of the season in a Rushville uniform. The fans were highly elated at the prospects of getting a better pitcher of Link's ability and if he will play here the fans expect the team to show well against the best of teams.

Link may be put in if Patterson goes bad. The Specials are coming here to give the Arcadians a stiff game and the fans can expect a battle.

orator declared with some enthusiasm. He asserted there are forty thousand "floaters" in the state and that ninety per cent of them are illiterate. He said that in order to get good government the illiteracy of the voters must be reduced.

Walter Richardson of College Corner, after pointing to the fact that the present constitution was written sixty-three years ago, that the state had progressed rapidly and the population had tripled, recalled that Thomas Jefferson said that no constitution should be allowed to exist twenty years. He asserted that not to vote for a new constitution was to vote to maintain the old one, which was practically a vote for slavery and unequal taxation. He referred briefly to many of the political reforms it is desired by included in the new document.

Lyons, the Richmond speaker, had a clear-cut, concise and convincing argument. He overshadowed all of the entrants, not so much with his delivery as with his subject matter and with impression he gave that he was well acquainted with that of which he spoke. He is a finished orator in the sense that it may be used to refer to a high school student. His arguments indicated study of the problem; his language indicated unusual literary talent. Taken as a whole, he is a very accomplished young man.

That he is capable is recognized by the citizens of Richmond. After his speech had been heard, he was invited to present it before the Richmond Commercial Club. So effective was his argument and so convincing was his logic that the club voted him an honorary emblems and made him a member of the committee on taxation.

He based his argument solely on the taxation system. Lyons asserted that taxation is basic, and since the present system is unjust a new constitution should be adopted for the method of taxation could not be changed in any other way. He declared that the taxpayers are now crying out for justice. Lyons argued that the farmers of the present constitution in 1851 could not realize the needs of the present generation. While some taxpayers are immune, he showed, because of the inequity of the system, a large proportion of property escapes taxation, when the wealthy people are best able to pay.

Lyons suggested six reforms: classification of taxables, exemption of money not drawing interest, exemption of a certain per cent. of personal property and real estate in every case, equalize property valuation, appoint the assessors under civil service and make the assessment on the true cash value up to the taxation limit.

Miss Adeline Class, representing Hancock county, asserted something was needed to stop legislative corruption and that the political evils could not be remedied without reforms which can not be gained unless a new constitution is adopted. Miss Class devoted much of her speech to the political ills rather than the constitution. She referred to unequal taxation and spoken vehemently in favor of woman suffrage. Miss Class asserted men had tried to cure the evils of the day and had failed, and that women should be given a chance. She advocated statewide prohibition, arguing that as county local option was more effective than the township and city plan, even so much more effective would be state prohibition. Miss Class favored also the short ballot, direct primary, initiative, referendum and recall of judicial decisions.

Miss Class decried the reign of the political boss and said the adoption of the political reforms through the adoption of the constitution would eradicate this character in politics. She said that a constitutional convention of honest men should be called. She laid special stress on the word honest.

All of the speakers referred to the uselessness of attempting to gain the needed reforms by amending the present constitution because it provides no amendment shall be introduced while one is being considered.

In rebuttal, Brown declared the short ballot was the most important issue before the people because the ballot makes possible more intelligent voting and places a few candidates conspicuously before the people whereas the present system leads only to confusion. He declared against woman suffrage, which, he said had not proved helpful in Colorado where it had been tried many years.

Casady, in rebuttal, declared a new constitution was needed primarily to gain justice, to make suffrage harder to gain and to obtain a constitution that is easier to alter.

In defense of his original speech, Richardson said woman suffrage was not practical. He said women could not serve in the army and, therefore, should not be allowed to vote. He said the man with no education has as much interest in the government as the intelligent man.

Lyons said he was discussing the fundamental principle, taxation. He recalled that Rome, the greatest of all nations in its age, fell because of unequal taxation.

Miss Class answered her critics in regard to woman suffrage. She said one of her opponents had referred to the initiative and referendum as simple. She declared that simple government was the need of the day.

REQUISITES OF THE USEFUL 'COSTUME SPORT' ARE STYLE AND PRACTICABILITY

A loose, easy blouse of linen, or other cool wash material; a skirt wide enough at the bottom to allow for a free stride and as few dewdabs as possible makes an ideal suit for a day or many days in the country. There are more and more demands for suits and frocks of this description, as we all feel the call of the open as soon as things begin to sprout and days grow longer. Some of the newest outing frocks and suits have turned up hems on the order of a man's trousers, wide patch pockets, and tailored belts; others are on the middie order such as shown in No. 8351-7942, combined with straight skirts. Linen, the heavy cottons, cote de cheval, tweed, homespun and serge are all useful and modish for these suits. Here the blouse is of white linen and the skirt of tweed; two distinctive points in this blouse are the shoulder closing and the raglan sleeves. This suit may be copied in size 36 with 2 3/4 yards of 36-inch material for the blouse (8351) and 2 1/2 yards of 42-inch material for the skirt (7942).

The princess yoke makes this frock of dark-blue serge (8364) unusual; a peasant waist with a V-shaped opening at the throat, is combined with a three-piece skirt in which there is an inset section at the bottom and a princess yoke over which is draped a deep girle.

In size 36, this design requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

OUTBREAK MAY COME ANY TIME

So far Americans in El Paso have not had any Trouble With Mexicans but Spark May Ignite

JUAREZ IS ACROSS BORDER

Hundreds of Gamblers Located There and it is Remarkable That no Outbreaks Have Occured

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., May 16.—All things considered it is rather a remarkable thing that there have not been serious outbreaks between Mexicans and Americans here and in Juarez which is just across a short bridge over the Rio Grande. El Paso's population of 40,000 is largely Mexican, and there are a great many Americans in Juarez. At various times, strained relations between the Constitutionalists of the Federals and the American administration have seemed near the breaking point, and El Pasoans have looked for trouble, that has never come.

It costs only five cents on the trolley line to cross the national boundary into Juarez. In that Mexican city, now controlled by Constitutionalists are gathered hundreds of gamblers from North America, racing men, promoters of cock fights and bull fights, and the usual hangers-on of these amusements.

The racetrack is only a short distance from Juarez. It can be reached in less than an hour from almost any point in El Paso. Instead of being limited to a period of days, the race meetings some times are stretched out over a period of months. It is pointed out here that the easy money of the race track affords considerable augmentation to the funds of the Constitutionalists—or to the Federals; for that matter if the Federals happen to be in power at Juarez.

But the race track is not the only attraction for gamblers and other lovers of "sport" which Juarez holds out. There are the cock fights the roulette wheels, the faro banks, "no limit but the ceiling" poker games, and last and most important of all "Keno."

Keno has all the advantages of a lottery, in that a large number of persons can play at the same time and get instant action. If the "sports" are interested, settlements take place every few minutes. With the odds large because of so many players the winner draws down a considerable pot for the amount invested. In playing this favorite of the Juarezites, every player is given for a small fee, usually ten cents, a card which bears from fifty to one hundred numbers. With one hundred persons taking part, this would make a pot of $10 from which would be deducted the bank's commission.

A "house" employee draws duplicate numbers from a box slowly, calling them out to the waiting men, who have their cards before them, with little bits of gun wadding ready to be stuck on the numbers upon their cards, as these are announced by the caller. The first man to complete a row of three numbers covered with gun wadding shouts "Keno," and he gets the pot.

As in all gambling games, the possibilities for an argument resulting in a general melee are tremendous, especially when the character of the hot blooded Mexicans is taken into consideration. The trouble about a fight is that the Mexicans want to get their knives into action, or indulge in a little shooting, in which latter phase the cowboy element from Texas is only too ready to accommodate them.

Then there is no police force worth of the name in Juarez and in the event of a real riot lasting over a period of days the only appeal which could be made would be to Villa. And many of the Mexicans themselves would rather their city be pulled down about their ears than appeal to him, knowing full well what would probably follow should the soldiers be "turned loose" following the "saving" of the city. They figure that while the city might be saved, it would be saved for the Constitutional soldiers, and not for the inhabitants.

With all the gambling, cockfighting and horseracing that one's heart could wish, if one's heart desires this sort of thing, it is little wonder that a tremendous number of men fond of that sort of thing, the very character of men, usually, who are most prone to trouble of a more serious character, has been drawn to the little Mexican city.

UNVEIL STATUE OF JOHN BARRY

High Officials and Irish-American Societies Join in Paying Tribute to the Late Commodore

PILGRIMAGE TO MT. VERNON.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 16.—High government officials joined today with leaders of Irish-American societies in the unveiling of a $50,000 statue of Commodore John Barry. About this statue commemorating the Revolutionary victor of many a hardfought battle, leaders, paid high tribute. Soldiers, sailors and marines stood at attention as the white shroud was slowly hauled away from the artistic monument designed by John J. Boyle, New York sculptor. Previous to this a pilgrimage was made to Mount Vernon, where the party paid homage to the first president with whom Barry was closely allied. The Glee Club of Friendly Sons of St. Patrick sang at both ceremonies. In today's gathering were governors of Hibernian extraction. Besides them were gathered leaders of Irish-American societies and the men of Wexford county, Ireland, Barry's native state, who now dwell in New York and Philadelphia. President Wilson was expected to deliver a brief address if executive business would permit.

NEEDLEWORK

By MARGARET LAWRENCE

AN EFFECTIVE DESIGN FOR USE ON A SERVING-TABLE-COVER

14527

Nothing mars or improves the aspect of a room so quickly as does the condition of the covers used on the tables, side-board and bureau. They should always be kept fresh to maintain the neat tidy appearance.

Fine white round-thread linen is appropriate for making a serving-table-cover like the one illustrated here. The conventional flowered border is from transfer pattern 14527, which contains two designs for lingerie pillows for 15 cents. This border is one and one-half inches wide and may be developed in heavily padded solid work and eye-lets, combined, or used separately. Fine white mercerized cotton should be used in developing this design for both the flowered border and the scalloped edge.

The scallops are from pattern 14478, which contains six yards and four corners of one-half-inch wide border for ten cents. This pattern may be used for finishing the edges of small household linens, under-wear, neck wear, and children's clothes. The scallops should be firmly padded with either running-stitch or chain-stitch. The padding should be done close together so as to make an even foundation for the covering.

There are many times when one wishes to use scalloped borders on curved lines, as for finishing the neck of a garment or collar. This may be done very easily by clipping the paper on both sides of the design, close to the pattern itself. The transfer pattern should be basted along the outline of the desired curve, spreading the paper on the outside curve and overlapping the clipped sections on the inside.

Guaranteed hot-iron transfer patterns will be supplied to readers upon the receipt of price.

MORE PRODUCT IMPORTED NOW

Department of Commerce Shows Importation of Manufactured Aluminum Double.

SINCE THE NEW TARIFF BILL

Along With This is Announcement of Decrease in Importation of the Crude Aluminum.

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Washington, May 16.—The increasing use of aluminum in the United States is illustrated by the fact that nearly 27 million pounds of that metal or manufacturers thereof were imported during the last fiscal year, this being almost double the quantity imported in 1910 or 1912 and representing 40 per cent of the entire imports during the decade ended with June, 1913. The imports in the first eight months of the current fiscal year for which returns have been received by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, shows some recession from the high record imports of 1913, so far as applies to crude aluminum, but they are still coming in at a more rapid rate than in 1912 or any prior year. In the eight months ended with February of the last three fiscal years, imports of manufactured aluminum increased from $131,589 in 1912 to $2,728,730 in 1913, receded to 915 in the current year; while these of crude and scrap aluminum, which rose from $1,006,047 in 8 months of 1912 to $2,728 in 1913, receded to $1,864,262 in the current period, their total being, however, considerably above the average level touched during the past ten years.

By far the larger portion of the United States is manufactured in our own factories. Of last year's importations, for example, aggregating 5 million dollars in value, manufactured aluminum represented a total of less than three-quarters of a million, and crude aluminum 4 1/3 million dollars. The importation of upwards of 27 million pounds of crude and other aluminum is merely supplemental to the home product, which has advanced from 11 million pounds in 1908 to 65 1/2 million pounds, valued at 12 million dollars, in 1912. In addition to this, we produce annually from 150,000 to 160,000 tons of bauxite, the ore from which aluminum metal is obtained, the output in 1912 having been 159,865 tons, or treble the figure of 1908.

The extent and variety of the uses of aluminum may be inferred from a consideration of its properties. While it is extremely light only about 2 1/2 times heavier than water—it possesses great malleability, ductility, and tensile strength. It is easily alloyed with other metals, and strongly resists the influences of air, water, and vegetable acids. For these reasons it is to an increasing extent employed in making kitchen utensils, surgical appliances, jewelry, fancy articles, heavy bearings for machinery, etc. In these various forms it is being exported to every grand division of the world, our sales last year being especially heavy in Canada, England, and India. Japan, Australia, Germany and Brazil rank next in value of purchases from us, while sales were recorded in smaller quantities in practically every part of the civilized globe. Of the aluminum manufactures which we import, Germany and England are the important sources. The crude metal is brought from a dozen different countries, 8 1/3 million pounds from Germany, 6 3/4 million from Canada, 4 3/5 million from England, 2 1/2 million from France, 1 million each from Switzerland and Austria-Hungary, slightly less than 1 million each from Belgium and Italy, and the remainder, in the order named, from the Netherlands, Norway, Scotland, and Cuba.

Complete details regarding the character and source of imported aluminum and the countries of destination of aluminum and manufactures thereof exported are contained in Tables 3, 6, and 15 of the annual volume entitled "Commerce and Navigation of the United States, 1913," soon to be issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

MRS. LOLA VARNER IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Wife of Knightstown Man Who Shot Young Hays Several Months Ago Wins Case Easily.

HUSBAND OFFERS NO CONTEST

Mrs. Lola Varner, of Knightstown, was granted a divorce from Albert Varner yesterday in the Henry circuit court. The case was expected to take up most of the day and it was thought that Varner would make a fight as he had twenty-nine witnesses in the court room, but after Mrs. Varner and her two daughters had testified the plaintiff rested and the defendant did not introduce any testimony. Mrs. Varner testified that her husband was in the habit of becoming intoxicated and had made numerous threats to kill her and the rest of the family. Varner, it will be remembered, was tried some time ago for shooting a young man named Hayes. He was sentenced and later paroled. Varner conducts a coal and ice business in Charlottesville, but lives in Knightstown.

COXEY HAS BILLS HE WANTS PASSED

"General" who Gained "Fame" in Cleveland Administration Would Ameliorate Condition of Poor.

TO ARRIVE IN WASHINGTON

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 16.—"General" James S. Coxey was expected to swoop down on the capital today with his army of unemployed. Emulating his famous march of 1893, he planned to bring here today a vast concourse of "out-of-works." He has declared that he will let the government care for his charges once he gets them to the city. Coxey hoped to get Congress to receive three bills for the amelioration of the condition of the poor. The first proposes a law allowing communities to issue non-interest bonds, borrow money on them from the government and hire the unemployed to beautify and improve the country. His second bill would establish a federal bank in every city to permit loans as legal tender on real estate and chattel property at its face value at 2 per cent tax, and abolish interest. The third would enable the government to issue legal tender money to take over the railroads, telegraphs and telephone lines. Old inhabitants kept a watchful eye today for a possible repetition of Coxey's 1893 experience—arrest for trespass.

Coroner Impanels Jury to Investigate Accident at Detroit, Mich., Which Caused Death of 10.

EXPERTS TO MAKE REPORT

(By United Press.)
Detroit, Mich., May 16.—A second investigation into the cause of the explosion yesterday in the plant of the Mexican Crude Oil company which cost the lives of ten employees and resulted in the serious injury of seven others will be made by the coroner. He was prepared to impanel a jury this afternoon but the inquest probably will not be started for two weeks.

It will probably be several days before a committee of experts appointed by the coroner to inspect the plant will be ready to report.

MANY TRUE BILLS RETURNED TODAY

Wholesale Indictment by Federal Grand Jury Include Violations of White Slave Act.

AN ITALIAN IS INDICTED

Vito Solomito of Bloomington Says he Acted as Agent of Indianapolis Brewery Peddling Liquor.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., May 16.—Wholesale indictments were returned today by the federal grand jury in its first report since Frank Dailey of Bluffton became district attorney. The jury has been in session since May 5.

Vito Solomito of Bloomington was indicted, charged with selling liquor without payment of the government tax. He said he merely acted as an agent for the Indianapolis Brewing company in peddling liquor among foreigners in the stone quarries.

Thomas Philips, Fred Robbins and James Welch of Seymour were indicted, charged with stealing shipments of freight cars.

The first indictment in the United States Court under the new migratory bird law came in a bill against Frank Essmeister of Hammond, charged with shooting wild ducks while under annual migratory flight.

Grace Smythe, Michigan City resort keeper, was charged with violating the Mann white slave act by taking two 18-year-old girls from Chicago to Michigan City to live in her resort.

The girls informed the police when they became frightened.

Harry Kimble was also indicted for white slavery on the testimony of his wife, who is 16. She said Kimble brought her here from Cincinnati and placed her in a resort. When arrested Kimble resisted. He ran and was shot in the leg.

Tonic of Outdoor Life.

Outdoor life, contact with the earth, the digging, the wheeling of a barrow, even the quiet contemplation of unfolding animal and plant life, are better tonics and restorers than any man has devised.

There was one gardener who did wonders for himself at the very prosaic task of digging holes. Through a period of three years he dug 400 holes for trees and shrubs. He was three times as strong, he asserted, at the expiration of that time than ever before, and he weighed twenty pounds more. The improvement in his attitude toward life was too great to estimate.

During all that time he had been working in the open air he had "found"—although this particular gardener was no poet, and didn't express it in just this fashion—"tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything," including himself.—New York Post.

RICHMOND BOY WINS CONTEST

Robert Lyon Victor in Sixth District
Preliminary High School Discussion League.

VERNAL CASADY IS SECOND

Judges, However, Give Adeline Class of Hancock County Same Marks
—Different Views.

Robert Lyon, of Richmond, representing Wayne county, won the sixth district preliminary of the Indiana High School Discussion league at the Graham high school building here last night and is entitled to represent the district at the state contest which will be held at Bloomington Friday night, May 29.

Vernal Casady, of the Rushville high school, tied for second position with Miss Adeline Class, of Wilkinson, who represented Hancock county, according to the decision of the judges, but without the prejudice that would ordinarily be felt here, Casady was clearly entitled to second position. Those who placed the contestants before the judges made known the positions, placed Miss Class next to last.

Leroy Brown, of Shelbyville, who represented Shelby county, was in fourth position and Walter Richardson, of College Corner, Ohio, representing Union county, was given last place.

The interest in the contest was less than it merited. It was one of the most spirited events ever held in the high school. There were less than a hundred people in attendance. All of the speakers were applauded liberally and the local contestant was given a rousing demonstration.

The subject of discussion for all of the five was "The Proposed New Constitution for Indiana." It was explained that each contestant had a right to discuss the topic from any angle they saw fit. This advantage was taken by most of the speakers.

Leroy Brown, who spoke first, held that a new constitution should be adopted. Although he agreed that statewide prohibition, a revision of the taxation system, the initiative and referendum and many other much needed reforms should be incorporated, his main contention for the adoption of a new constitution was the imperative necessity of putting into use the short ballot. This form of voting, he said, was used in 29 states and 320 of the principal cities, as well as in most of the kingdoms of Europe.

In the first place, Brown contended the short ballot would eliminate the political boss, one of the ills of the body politic. He declared that the disgraceful condition of politics keep good men out of politics. In the second place, he argued that better men would be elected if the short ballot were used.

Vernal Casady asserted that the people of Indiana were denied the right of governing themselves under the present constitution which was adopted in 1851. Because of the growth of population and the change in methods the adoption of a new constitution is imperative, Casady contended. He asserted that there was no opportunity to get justice under the present constitution. Casady stated that the farmers of the first constitution protected the people against foreigners, but that those who made the constitution of 1851, the one in use now, reduced the time of residence to six months in order to vote so that a foreigner has now only to declare his intentions. This made suffrage too cheap, the young

FUNERAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Rebecca Bodine, eighty-eight years old, died shortly before midnight last night at her home, 427 West Third street. Mrs. Bodine had been in ill health for some time but had been in a serious condition only for about a week. Death was caused by apoplexy and a complication.
Mrs. Bodine was a well known and highly respected woman. She was a member of the Christian church and was a faithful worker. She was the widow of the late Charles Bodine and was known to all her many friends as Aunt Rebecca. She was born in Bedford county, Pa., March 24, 1826. She is survived by one grandson, Charles Nolan, of Indianapolis.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock at the late residence by the Rev. C. M. Yocum and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

OLD TAVERN PAST THE CENTURY MARK

Log House Still Standing in Jersey
City Was Lodging House For Travelers to Market Years Ago.

WAS ON ROAD TO CINCINNATI

Mrs. Ailee King of Jersey City said today that the old tavern in Jersey city was older than the one in the Webb neighborhood, southwest of the city, described in the Daily Republican yesterday. She said the little log house that stands just south of Noah Matlock's home in Circleville was used as a tavern in the olden days and that it is at least a hundred and ten or fifteen years old. The place has been inhabited by tenants and their families until recently.

Mrs. King's husband, Elisha King, where he living now, would be a hundred years old. He has often told his wife that the little log house was used as a tavern when that road was the trail to the Cincinnati market, which was the principal trading point for this community. Mrs. King says her husband has often related how farmers, driving their hogs through to market afoot, would stay at the tavern all night and keep their hogs in the barn lot. When Mr. King came to this county from Richmond at the age of twenty seven years, the house was then an old one.

GATES SEXTON DIED LAST NIGHT

One-Time Representative of the County in State Legislature Expired of Cerebral Meningitis.

FUNERAL WILL BE SUNDAY

County Bar Association Will Attend
in a Body and Committee is Appointed to Prepare Memorial.

Gates Sexton, a well known attorney of this city, died last night at eleven o'clock after a three weeks' illness. Mr. Sexton suffered an attack of the gripe about three weeks ago and cerebral meningitis developed which caused his death. He was taken to the Sexton sanatorium about a week ago that he might receive careful attention and he passed away there. Mr. Sexton had been unconscious for the last three days and death had been expected.

The death of Mr. Sexton came as a shock to his many friends and relatives. Although his condition was known to be very bad by the immediate family and death had been expected for several days, it never-the-less came as a surprise. Mr. Sexton was fifty-four years old and is survived by one son, William Sexton, his aged mother, Mrs. Anna Sexton, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Z. E. Mauzy, of San Francisco, Cal., and Mrs. S.
W. McMahon, also of California.

Gates Sexton was the son of the late Leonidas Sexton, one time lieutenant governor of Indiana. Mr.
Sexton was an active Republican and served one term in the state legislature. He was one of the well known members of the Rush County Bar association and for a number of years was the senior partner of the law firm of Sexton and McColgin, Will C. McColgin, the junior member of the firm was a brother-in-law of Mr. Sexton and died November 26, 1913.

Gates Sexton was born in Rushville, August 27, 1859 and had lived here all his life. He was graduated from the local schools and attended Wabash College, Crawfordsville, for about three years. While in college he took an active part in college life and was a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. On leaving college Mr. Sexton took up the practice of law and in this profession was very successful. Mr. Sexton was a lover of outdoor sports and was the variety pitcher one year while in college.
Mr. Sexton suffered the misfortune of losing his wife on October 22, 1912. On July 13, 1913, his daughter, Miss Suanna Sexton, was called by death and then his brother-in-law, Will C. McColgin.

At a meeting of the Rush County Bar association held this morning and presided over by Judge John D.
Megee arrangements were made to attend the funeral services in a body
A committee composed of Judge
Douglas Morris, A. L. Gary and T.
M. Green was appointed to prepare a memorial to Mr. Sexton. The association will meet Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in the court house to hear the report and attend the funeral in a body.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the late residence in North Morgan street by the Rev. A. D.
Batchelor, pastor of the St. Paul's
M. E. church, of which Mr. Sexton was a member.

Lon A. Havens will begin Monday to drive the bus line, which was formerly driven by Berlin Caldwell, who will retire from the business. The bus line was only recently sold to John S. Davis.

CLASS OF 37 TO BE GRADUATED

List of High School Seniors Who
Will Receive Diplomas This
Year is Announced Today.

COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY 29

Bishop Anderson of Cincinnati Will Deliver Class Address—Other
Commencement Week Events.

The list of graduates for the 1914 class of the Rushville high school, as announced today by J. H. Scholl, superintendent of schools, contains thirty-seven names. This is one of the largest classes ever graduated here. It is stated that a few of the thirty-seven have not completed their work and that the diplomas will be withheld until the work is completed.

The commencement week program has been completed. The baccalaureate services for the class will be held in the Main Street Christian church Sunday evening, May 24.
The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church, will deliver the sermon. As is the usual custom, all the churches of the city will unite in this service. This is the beginning of the commencement week program.

The alumni banquet and entertainment, which this year was made a part of the commencement week program, will be held on the evening of May 28 in the basement of the First Presbyterian church. The members of the Senior class will be invited to attend this function. The banquet this year promises to surpass any yet given and will be different from those held in the past in that an entertainment will be given instead of the usual toasts.

The commencement exercises will be held at eight o'clock, Friday evening, May 29, in the Main Street Christian church. Bishop W. F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, will deliver the commencement address. Bishop Anderson was here last fall at the Methodist conference and made many friends, who will be glad to hear that he is to deliver the address.
Bishop Anderson is a finished speaker and the school board did well to secure a man of his ability to deliver the class address.

The Junior class has issued invitations for the annual Junior-Senior reception. The reception will be held next Friday evening in the Graham school. The final examinations for the Seniors will be held next Thursday.

The 1914 class is composed of the following members:

John Kennard Allen, Robert Anderson, Alleine Margaret Budd, Lois Frances Bussell, Lyla Alice Bowen,
Marguerite Cartmel, Vernal Casady,
Pauline Cowing, Francis Ivan Coyne, Geneva Adele Crull, Osro Lewis Farthing, Leah Adelle Flint, Sallie Marie Foster, Amelia Esther Geraghty, Lucile Charman Gray, Harry K. Green, Pauline Hall, Robert Arnold Helm, Fredericka Hiner, Louis Chase Hiner,
Stacy Hinkle, Mary Ruth Innis,
Maude Muller Jones, Margaret Mary
Kelley, Don B. Looney, Jean Mc-Clanahan, Katie Madden, Mildred
Myers, Florence Marie Newhouse, Helen Norris, John Herman Sampson, James Joseph Shannahan, Orlando Augustine Simmes, Mary
Lucile Smith, Byron C. Wainwright, Forest Logan Webb, Wilbur Van Woollen.

A nine-pound baby boy was born to the wife of George Smith, living four miles east of the city, late yesterday afternoon.

DIES AT COUNTY ASYLUM

J. A. McRoberts Succumbs From Complication of Diseases.

J. A. McRoberts, 63 years old, died last night at seven o'clock at the county asylum after a several week's illness from dropsy and a complication of diseases. Mr. Mc-Roberts had been an inmate of the county asylum for the past five weeks.
He had been in a serious condition for the past week and death was expected. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. John Lawrence of Arlington. Burial took place this afternoon at four o'clock in East Hill cemetery. Brief services were held at the grave.

DEMOCRATS NAME THEIR DELEGATES

Holding Township Convention Today
to Pick Men Who Will Nominate
The County Ticket.

MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

The Democrats of Rush county were busy last night and today selecting delegates to the county convention to be held here June 6. The Democrats of Rushville township met last night in the court house and selected eighty delegates. Charles Bales presided at this meeting and
Dr. Frank Smith acted as secretary.
The convention was held in the assembly room and then the men met by precincts and named the delegates.

Other meetings last night were Walker township, Orange, Jackson, Center, Union and Richland. A crowd of possibly one hundred attended the meeting here. The rest of the townships met either today or will meet tonight to select their delegates.

ASSESSORS' WORK CLOSED LAST NIGHT

They Were to Report to the County
Assessor Today so he May Determine Property Value.

COUNTY REVIEW BOARD NEXT

The work of the township assessors for the year came to a close last night. Today the officials were to report to the county assessors, John F. Moses and in turn he may determine the value of the personal property in Rush county. Many of the assessors have been through with their work several days, but none of them has reported.

The assessors are given until the 15th of May to complete their work.
They are supposed to have it finished on time and to immediately turn in their books to the county assessors so that he may prepare them for the meeting of the county board of reviews. This board consists of the county auditor, county treasurer, county assessor and two men appointed by the circuit court judge.

MORE SALOONS

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., May 16.—Possibly the "Drys" here would have prospered more had they stayed away from the polls entirely during the recent option election. As it is, they met defeat but piled up so large a vote that on the strength of it Richmond gets three more saloons.

WILL BE NO ACTS OF REPRISAL NOW

State Department Content to Allow Slaying of Private Parks of Wabash by Federals go Unnoticed.

NOT TO INJURE MEDIATION

Brazilian Minister Reports Vice-
Consul Silliman is Safe and on
Way to Vera Cruz Today

(BY JOHN E. NEVIN.)
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, May 16.—The murder of Private Parks of Wabash, Ind., admittedly slain by Mexican Federals without trial although captured in uniform at Vera Cruz, will not be followed by acts of reprisal at this time. The state department made this very clear today.

Although the war department is afraid over the killing, which has created a grave situation, Secretary Bryan insists that it is merely another outrage for which Huerta is responsible, which will be taken up in final settlement. Bryan supports the President firmly and nothing will interfere with mediation.

Secretary Bryan declared today his representation to the Huerta government in the Parks case "are urgent." While he would not specify the exact nature of these demands he declared they bore solely on the point of the Huerta government's persistent withholding of information.

There was a marked relief today when the news was received from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City that Vice-consul Silliman is safe and on his way home to Mexico City from Saltillo where he was held captive.
The dispatch stated Silliman was due to arrive either last night or today.

Tuxtam, 60 miles from Tampico, fell into the hands of the Rebels Thursday. Refugees who have the news at Vera Cruz today said Generals Aguila and Blanco were the captors.

HELD TRACK MEET

(By United Press.)

Laporte, Ind., May 16.—High schools in the Northern Indiana Athletic League sent their teams here today to compete in the annual track and field meet. Schools represented are Mishawaka, Valparaiso, Gary, Hammond, Crown Point, Michigan
City, and LaPorte. The annual oratorical contest will be held tonight.

Sand is shipped from Seattle to Honolulu for concrete making.

Put Your Signs Where People See Them

Merchants and manufacturers can read this message with equal advantage.

When you advertise you want to reach the public.

What do they, the people, read every day? What do you yourself read every day?

Any way you look at this question the answer is always the same—THE NEWSPA-PERS.

The modern daily newspaper with its definite concentrated circulation is the best medium in the world today for getting news of goods or service before the buying public.

Nothing takes its place—as many have already proved for themselves.

Floor Coverings--Draperies

Our pronounced success in this department this season, is a source of gratification to us, and a positive proof of the high quality and character of our carefully selected patterns, colorings and designs. To those who have not yet supplied their needs in Rugs, Linoleums, Matting, Fillers, Oil Cloths, Lace Curtains, Fancy and Plain Curtain yardage, and Silk Drapery yardage, we extend a cordial invitation to visit this department and become convinced of its merits as others have already done.

If You Were Indicted for Murder==

would you care to be tried before a jury whose minds were on other affairs and who would not listen to your testimony? The chances are you would want men who would give their whole attention to your case. You may never be tried for murder but the same proposition applies to every business transaction you make. When you want to buy an article go to the man that specializes that article. Now for instance if you need a vehicle of any kind—that is where I ring in. That is why I can give you better vehicle values, better styles and better service. My whole time and attention is centered on one thing. Every day in the year, Mr. Vehicle Buyer, I am working to obtain better prices and better style for you to make your selections from. Place your business with a man who creates new styles and is working at the business every day to give you satisfaction. I want your vehicle business and don't you think it is a better proposition to place it with me than with some one that is selling buggies as a side issue?

TO EXPERIMENT IN 100 COUNTIES

The Department of Agriculture Will Study Road Conditions in Cooperation with Local Officials

WOULD LIKE TO FIND DEFECTS

Department Will Pick Out Points
of Excellence Which May be Used
Elsewhere to Advantage

[Special to the Daily Republican.]
Washington, May 16.—Detailed studies of local road building systems in 100 counties are now being carried on by the Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the State highway departments and local road authorities.

The purpose of this study is to discover the points of excellence and defects in existing local methods of building and maintaining roads which will aid the State authorities to put local road management on a systematized basis. The co-operating State authorities have been asked to designate counties that present typical and exceptional features as to topography, character of road materials, methods of construction and maintenance, administrative organization, methods of road financing, and traffic conditions. From these lists 100 counties will be selected, and in these counties the Division of Road Economics will make intensive studies.

This investigation is prompted by the fact that there is at present very little knowledge as to the most effective and economical methods by which a county can develop its roads. At present the methods of financing local road improvements vary from calling on farmers for a certain number of days labor in lieu of a road tax, or the use of county prisoners in road construction, to bond issues or maintenance of roads from dram-shop license funds.

The Department will study all of these systems with the view to determining what system or combination of systems works best in actual practice.

There is, more over, at present no standard system of keeping account for road building and maintenance, and as a result, while some counties know to a penny the purpose for which money was spent, others have no definite check or reporting system. Among various counties with the same conditions, cost for excavation or other labor is anything but uniform, and many counties, because of the absence of definite knowledge fail to use local and cheap materials and construct roads which are unnecessarily expensive for their purpose, or which will wear out before the bond issues are redeemed. The investigation will include a careful study of the use of convict labor in road construction.

In connection with the scientific study, the Department's highway engineers will advise freely with local officials as to improvements, and thus give each county visited the advantage of direct co-operation, engineering supervision and assistance.

These investigations, it is believed will yield important economic data bearing especially on the benefits and burdens of road improvement and showing the extent to which financial outlay under given typical conditions is justifiable.

The heads of State highway departments are manifesting great interest and are co-operating cordially in this work. These data when obtained will be published and thus made accessible to all county and state road officials.

FOLLOWS PLAN USED IN INDIANA

Kansas City Building its School System Along Lines of This State
—Copied Gary Building.

IT IS CONSIDERED A MODEL

[By United Press.]
Kansas City, Mo., May 16.—This city is following the lead of Indiana in its school system. As a model for its newest school buildings it has copied the buildings erected in Gary, Ind. At the laying of the corner stone of the new McCoy school in accordance with the most approved plan in the Hoosier state. Several similar buildings will be erected.

The plans include fresh air class rooms, a roof playground for the pupils in the kindergarten classes, showers and a gymnasium.

The gymnasium 62 by 42, will be in front of the building on the ground floor. There will be no basement. Two large rooms equipped with shower bath adjoins the gymnasium.

Directly over the gymnasium on the second floor will be the auditorium with two fresh air classrooms adjoining.

Another feature will be the ventilated wardrobes. The clothing will be suspended from rods and exposed on all sides to the air. The building will cost $75,000.

ROOSTER DAY IN KENTUCKY

Poultry Men of the Blue Grass State
to Conserve Egg Supply

[By United Press.]

Washington, May 16.—The Little Red Rooster is persona non grata with poultry experts of the Department of agriculture. And acting on the suggestion of the Department of Agriculture today was named "rooster day" throughout Kentucky. The program from today on and for several months, during which season the egg market is most plentiful, Kentucky poultrymen have banded together and agreed to sell only roosters for food instead of hens and chickens so that the egg crop may thereby remain unimpaired through the slaughter of hens for feed as heretofore.

BEVERLY BOYNE.

SCENE FROM "THE DANCE OF DEATH."

DISCOVERING that the white man who had married her according to the rites of her people is seated in a box of the theater with another girl, a dancer from the south sea islands, who has scored a tremendous success upon the American stage, kills herself in the climax of her dance, aptly named by her tribe "The Dance of Death."

This is the situation which occurs in the Kalem drama, "The Dance of Death," just released.

Beverly Boyne is becoming one of the most popular performers on the films and has a host of admirers throughout the country.

"Knockabout Kelly; A Magician in Spite of Himself," is the name of a new comedy picture. Kelly watched a spring discoverer at work and saw a water brought to light. Waiting an opportunity, he stole the diviner's hazel stick. The theft brought him considerable trouble. Wherever Knockabout went water burst forth. So it went on until at length the police appeared.

"A Boarding House Romance" (Edison), by Bliss Milford, is brimful of comedy. Effie's mother, the boarding house keeper, wanted her to marry Daube, the artist, who was painting her portrait. Effie loved Jimmy, another boarder. Daube announced his engagement to Effie, and mamma's portrait was exhibited. But Jimmy and Effie had doctored the portrait, and mother broke it over Daube's head.

"Bobby and the Banker" is a very interesting and amusing comedy. Bobby and the servants are sitting at home, the parents being out, when a telegram arrives saying that through secret information they are advised that the banker, who has hold of the family securities, is about to run away with the securities. Little Bobby calls on the banker, who is making great haste to pack up the securities before leaving. Bobby then pretends that he has lost his pocketbook in the house and persuades the banker to go out of the room and find it. Meanwhile Bobby puts a very powerful adhesive to the chair, and the banker, returning with the pocketbook, sits on the chair and is unable to remove himself. Bobby then insults the banker, who chases him out of the house. A bulldog passing attacks the banker, and Bobby has him arrested.

Meteors and Meteorites.
A meteor is any luminous or fiery object that traverses space, as shooting stars, falling stars, etc. A meteorite is a mass of mineral matter which reaches the earth from upper space. The fall of a meteorite is often preceded by the light of a fireball through the sky and by an explosive sound, but not always, for they sometimes reach the earth without any previous notice. They have been recorded ever since the world began, and, of course, some fall which are never recorded. The British museum contains a collection of 500 meteoric stones, of which twelve fell within the British Islands and the rest in other parts. Almost every museum of any note has a collection of them, ranging in size from a few pounds to hundreds of pounds. Lieutenant Peary brought one from Greenland that weighed thirty-six and one-half tons. There are authentic cases of narrow escapes from meteorites, but only one in history of a person being killed, and that man was in India, in 1827.—Philadelphia Press.

Beats the Carpenter's Record.
The discovery of a carpenter whose father, grandfather and great-grandfather practiced the same craft has been commented upon in several newspapers and at Lamberhurst, in Kent, there is a family who have been innkeepers for four centuries. In countries where the caste system prevails such a record would be thought utterly insignificant. Grant Duff notes in his diary the answer made by a punkah puller in Madras to an English lady who suggested that he might improve his position. "Memsahib, my father pulled a punkah, my grandfather pulled a punkah, all my ancestors for 4,000,000 ages pulled punkahs, and before that the god who founded our caste pulled a punkah for Vishnu."—London Chronicle.

The Wearying Chase.
Tommy could not understand why his teacher thought that the following paragraph from his composition on "A Hunting Adventure" lacked animation and effectiveness:
"Pursued by the relentless hunter, the panting gazelle sprang from cliff to cliff. At last she could go no farther. Before her yawned the chasm and behind her the hunter."—Youth's Companion.

Earthquakes.
Earthquakes are subterranean disturbances propagated through the earth in a series of elastic waves. How they originate is not clearly shown. Many are associated with volcanic action, while just as many occur without any evidence of such association.

Didn't Watch His Watch.
In a subway crowd not long ago a New York man was "touched" for his watch. The watch was not intrinsically valuable, but the New York man wanted it back for sentimental reasons and inserted divers advertisements in the papers offering $50 for the return of the watch and "no questions asked."
The "dip" who had "lifted" the watch saw the advertisements and concluded to take the $50. He called on the New York man, handed him the timepiece and demanded the reward.
The owner of the watch was only too happy to give it to him. After examining the watch he returned it to his pocket and handed over five ten-dollar bills. The "dip" pocketed the money and departed. There was little said.
A few minutes later the New York man reached for his watch.
But it was gone.—New York Tribune.

Restfulness of Flowers.
Flowers in the home divert the mind and rest the weary eyes of the housewife and mother.
A bouquet in the sickroom aids in keeping the mind off the disease and often starts the brain on a new channel of thought that puts the patient on the road to recovery.
Flowers in the office or on the desk of the weary clerk or stenographer will produce such a telling effect that by actual comparison more work is accomplished by those whose eyes and brains are rested by the presence of those gifts from nature.
Artists visit the parks and gardens to study the flowers, and their orbs are wonderfully toned up by the refreshing glimpses of the colors in nature, and no artist has ever been successful who does not study colors in the beautiful flowers.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Bad Disease.
A well known railroad president once took occasion to visit a small southern town to enjoy the excellent fishing near by. He carefully concealed his identity and was consequently snubbed by a "leading citizen" with whom he attempted to strike up a conversation on the banks of the stream. When leaving he secured the services of an aged black to carry his things from the hotel to the depot. There the departing visitor caught sight of the man who had given him the cold shoulder. "Poor Smith!" he said, smiling amiably. "Suffering from an aggravated attack of egotism." "Dat so?" said Uncle Silas in surprise, following his gaze. "He done lived heah more'n twenty years an' Ah nevah knowed afore dat he wuz allin'."—Argonaut.

Bless the Baby.
Bless this little heart, this white soul that has won the kiss of heaven for our earth.
He loves the light of the sun, he loves the sight of his mother's face.
He has not learned to despise the dust and to hanker after gold.
Clasp him to your heart and bless him.
He has come into this land of a hundred crossroads.
I know not how he chose you from the crowd, came to your door and grasped your hand to ask his way.
He will follow you, laughing and talking and not a doubt in his heart.
Keep his trust, lead him straight and bless him.—From "The Crescent Moon," by Rabindranath Tagore.

Fox Fire.
Fox fire generally appears on a white oak stump which has decayed from within, so that the whole interior glows like a crucible. At times it seems to vibrate and change like the northern lights on a small scale, but it is difficult to be sure of this.—A Farmer's Notebook.

Two of a Kind.
"Oh, George," sighed the lovesick maiden, "I'm sure I'm not worthy to be your wife."
"Well," replied George wearily, "I'm not worthy to be your husband, so we're just about evenly matched."—Philadelphia Press.

The damage suit of Lon Conner, of Connersville, against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company has been sent to Henry county on a change of venue from Fayette county. Conner demands $6,000 for personal injuries.

Amusements

The Princess will show the usual three pictures tonight. The first is a comedy entitled "A Pair of Frauds." Lillian Burns and James Morrison are featured. The second is a drama "The Long Cold Night." Ruth Stonehouse is shown in this one. The last is a drama, entitled "The Countess and the Burglar." Monday night the two reel Vitagraph feature "An Officer and a Gentleman" will be shown.

"The Twin's Double" is the title of the three reel feature at the Gem tonight. It is a gold seal 101 Bison drama, telling a thrilling detective story. Grace Cunard and Francis Ford are featured. It is said to be a remarkable picture and some of the scenes are very sensational.

"THE TWIN'S DOUBLE"

Three Part Gold Seal Detective Drama, with GRACE CUNARD and FRANCIS FORD

This is a remarkable picture, showing Miss Cunard playing three parts in one picture. You will see her in three different places at one time. This picture shows scenes of the underworld, scenes in an opium dive, in the filthy back alleys of a great tenement district, and then we are suddenly shifted to a beautiful home and ball-room scene. The story ends with some very sensational scenes and will be liked by all.

A Whole Straw Stack

Straws keep coming in which indicate which way the wind is blowing. The latest is from California, the state where, the last election, the Republican party machinery was absorbed by Governor Hiram Johnson, Theodore Roosevelt's running mate. The registration there will conclude July 1. It began the first day of this year. Despite the untiring efforts of Johnson and other Progressives to keep the Republican party dead, the registration returns show a remarkable change of sentiment. In California the people have been getting the warm end of the so called Progressive progression and they have their money's worth.

The Muncie Press produces figures to show that on March 16 the official return of the registration in California showed: Republican 236,769; Progressive, 127,785; Democratic, 127,383; Socialist, 33,062; Prohibition, 20,633. In two-thirds of the counties of the state, the Republicans are first. The indications are that the registration, when completed, will show a Republican plurality of 200,000. The Republicans have already eighty thousand more votes in California than Johnson received for governor in 1912. The vote for Taft in the state in 1912 was 3,914, of which nearly half was cast in Los Angeles county. Roosevelt received 283,610 votes and Wilson 283,436. The California registration indicates such a preponderance of republican sentiment as had never existed in that state before. The highest Republican plurality ever achieved in an election in California was 89,017 in 1904 and in an off year 40,095 in 1894.

Railroad Conditions

To those who doubt that the railroad business, the best barometer of conditions any season of the year, is not slumping considerably, the following from the Frankfort Times is presented:

More than half the men employed in the Clover Leaf shops here and many employees of the railroad at the shops in Delphos, Ohio, and Charleston, Ill., were laid off at the close of the working hours yesterday evening and were notified that the working forces would not be increased before July 1.

The action of the road in laying the men off did not come as a surprise to many of the railroad men although the lay-off was not expected to take place until the twenty-fourth of the month, when the semi-monthly pay roll will be completed.

Throughout the country the railroad shops have been closed with only a small number of men working to keep up running repairs or with half the regular forces but the Clover Leaf has succeeded in keeping all of its employees at work until yesterday when it became necessary to cut down the regular number of employees on account of the lack of traffic that is being handled.

In the shops here there is plenty of work to be done, the employees assert, but in the traffic department business has been below the average and not sufficient to justify the maintenance of the shops with a full working force.

According to railroad men the shortage in freight shipments is due to the fact that many of the large industries throughout the country are closed down and with the factories closed the shipping of large consignments of products to the various markets has ceased.

The value of the Chamber of Commerce comes to our attention very frequently. Without an organization of some sort this week, Rushville could not have offered any sort of a welcome to the Cincinnati trade boosters who visited our community. Had not Rushville made some organized effort through an association of a nature like the Chamber of Commerce, there could have been no showing and Rushville would have received a black mark on the tally book of the "Queen City" pilgrims. As it was Rushville got the credit of being a live, wide-awake city. That impression was made on the minds of a hundred Cincinnati business men. The name Rushville, Ind. will always recall to them the cordial reception they received here and the lively interest in the city that was everywhere evident. We can't afford to be without the Chamber of Commerce.

ALIMONY OF
$10,000 ASKED

Mrs. Ruth B. Adams, of Lewisville
Brings Sensational Divorce
Suit Against Stephen B. Adams.

OWNER OF ADAMS PRODUCE CO.

Defendant, Who Plaintiff Says Accuses Her of Being False is Related and Well Known Here..

Stephen B. Adams, a wealthy farmer and poultry dealer living near Lewisville, and owner of the Adams Produce company of this city, was made the defendant in a sensational divorce suit yesterday in the Henry county circuit court. Ruth B. Adams, the plaintiff, demands $10,000 alimony in addition to an allowance for attorney fees and expenses in the case.

Both parties in the suit are well known here. Mr. Adams is the father of Mrs. Walter Thomas of this city. Mr. Thomas is manager of the produce company, which Mr. Adams owns here. The plaintiff is the second wife of the defendant.

According to the complaint the couple were married October 20, 1910, and separated Thursday.

Mrs. Adams claims that her husband falsely accused her of being intimate with other men. The accusations, she claims were false and were known to be false by her husband when he made them. She also claims that her husband, at times, indulges in the drinking of intoxicating liquors and has a violent temper and swears at her and abuses her. She claims he has scolded her, and has made it impossible for her to live with him any longer.

Mrs. Adams states that she has no property or money or income except $60 a year, and no means of earning a livelihood. She asserts that, at the time of her marriage she was a widow of a Union soldier and that she was receiving a pension of $12 a month which ceased at her marriage.

Mrs. Adams claims that her husband owns 340 acres of valuable farm land in Henry county and is the owner of a profitable poultry business in Rushville as well as property to the value of $50,000 and has an income of $5,000 a year. She asks for $300 attorney fees and $10,000 alimony.

VILLA RE-ENFORCES THEM

(By United Press.)

Paredon, Mexico, May 16.—Surprised by Rebel scouts, a body of 500 Federals who escaped from Monclova late yesterday is concerned today in the sand hills north of here. Reports say a desperate struggle is in progress today. Sixteen fleeing Federals were killed by the scouts as they approached the place. The rear guard of Villa's army stopped its march to Saltillo today and re-enforced the scouts. The sudden fall of Monclova was a surprise here.

Feminism and Masculine Co-operation Important to the Best Development of the Race

By Mrs. ELIZABETH TOWNE, Author

A WOMAN should tell a man everything that has been in her life before she marries him. If he is willing and eager to take her in spite of her mistakes, her sins, then he is a real man and will make a real husband.

FEMINISM AND MASCULINISM ARE EQUALLY IMPORTANT TO THE BEST DEVELOPMENT OF THE RACE. BUT WHAT IS EVEN MORE IMPORTANT IS CO-OPERATION BETWEEN THE TWO.

A woman thinks in terms of humanity. A man thinks in terms of dollars and cents. Life is the greatest motive force for women. Organization and intellect are the motive forces of the man.

JUST BECAUSE YOUR HUSBAND FORGOT TO BRING YOU A BUNCH OF VIOLETS ON YOUR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS NO REASON WHY YOU SHOULD WALLOW IN A SLOUGH OF SENTIMENTALITY. MAKE SENTIMENT SERVE YOU INSTEAD OF WEIGHING YOU DOWN.

Woman will gradually return to the happy days when she was the perfect homemaker, grooming her husband for the battle of life and sending him forth in condition to win for their family and their home.

Courts Criticised and Abused For Administering Law as They Find It

By Presiding Justice INGRAHAM of Appellate Division, Supreme Court, New York State

SPEAKING for the profession at large, I think the time has come when we should in no uncertain tone testify to our respect and confidence in the courts of this state and ESPECIALLY IN THE COURT OF APPEALS. The courts have been criticised and abused because they administered the law as they found it, the law which had been adopted and developed by the people themselves. For the last two years the people of this state and the people of the whole continent of America, from Canada to Patagonia, have been treated to CRITICISMS OF THE DECISIONS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS OF THIS STATE as though these decisions were the enunciation of some monstrous doctrine.

LET US TAKE THE IVES CASE, DECIDED TWO YEARS AGO BY THE COURT OF APPEALS AND WHICH RAISED SUCH A STORM OF RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION. THERE THE COURT POINTED OUT THAT THE PROPOSED EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY ACT VIOLATED CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION WHICH THE PEOPLE HAD ADOPTED. WHEN THIS FACT WAS CALLED TO THE ATTENTION OF THE PEOPLE THERE WAS NO DIFFICULTY WITHIN TWO YEARS IN HAVING THE CONSTITUTION SO AMENDED IN A REGULAR AND PROPER WAY THAT THE LAW WHICH THE PEOPLE WANTED COULD BE PASSED, AND ALREADY SUCH A LAW IS ON THE STATUTE BOOKS OF THE STATE. THAT ANY CONSIDERABLE PORTION OF THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE SHOULD SERIOUSLY PROPOSE TO UPSET THE SYSTEM UNDER WHICH THE LAWS HAVE BEEN ADMINISTERED SINCE THE STATE WAS FIRST ORGANIZED BECAUSE THEY DO NOT APPROVE OF THIS DECISION SEEMS TO ME TO BE MONSTROUS.

Radium Claims Pile Up; Two Grams All We Have In United States

By GIFFORD PINCHOT, President National Conservation Association

SEVERAL weeks have elapsed since a joint resolution was introduced in congress to reserve to the people of the United States the radium bearing ores on the public lands. During this period of needless and inexcusable delay NOT LESS THAN FIVE HUNDRED ADDITIONAL CLAIMS HAVE BEEN LOCATED BY PRIVATE PERSONS, so that their content of radium—the only medical remedy for cancer—may be exploited for private profit instead of being used for the public good. This was the object of those who caused the delay.

It is officially estimated that the loss to the government on the radium needed for its hospitals and the profit to the grabbers, if the grabbers have succeeded fully in their purpose, will be more than one million five hundred thousand dollars. But this is the smallest part of the loss.

AT PRESENT AT LEAST HALF OF OUR RADIUM GOES ABROAD. OUR GOVERNMENT HOSPITALS NEED THIRTY GRAMS OF RADIUM AT ONCE, WHILE TWO GRAMS IS ALL WE HAVE IN THE UNITED STATES TODAY. THERE ARE CONSTANTLY IN THIS COUNTRY OVER TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND PERSONS SUFFERING FROM CANCER, OF WHOM NOT LESS THAN SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DIE EACH YEAR. ONE WOMAN DIES OF CANCER OUT OF EVERY EIGHT THAT DIES AT AGES OVER THIRTY-FIVE AND ONE MAN OUT OF EVERY TWELVE.

TRACK MEET OPENS AT ONE

Indianapolis High Schools Are Doped to Win State Event.

(By United Press.)

Crawfordsville, Ind., May 16.—When the State High school track meet opened here at one o'clock this afternoon the two Indianapolis high schools were doped to lead the field. Crawfordsville and Wingate appeared strong. Bands were playing and students parading. Delegations were here from the Capitol.

STAR PITCHERS HOODOOED.

Nearly Always Lose Opening Game of the Season.

Baseball dope is a very peculiar thing. Looking over the major league openings for the last ten years one finds that the Pirates, who in this time have won only one flag, have landed eight of their opening controversies, and so have the Braves, who generally have finished in the ruck. The Naps, also nonpennant winners, have done splendidly at the kickoff, capturing seven contests. The White Elephants, with a record of four pennants in ten years, have broken away in front just six times, and the Giants, who have annexed five gonfalous, have had only an even split in their proff contests. The McGrawites, moreover, have been blanked on opening day on four occasions. Six times have the Cardinals had to be content with one tally in their first championship contests.

Star pitchers do not always fare well when real hostilities commence. Cy Young was the twirler for the Boston Red Sox in four of their openers, and he won only one. Joe Wood's record on getaway day shows one victory, two defeats and one tie. Nap Rucker has gone down to defeat three times when the championship lid was lifted and only once has led the Superbas to a triumph in an opening game. It was when G. Napoleon was operating on the mound in 1912 that the Giants set a record for runs on the first day of the season by accumulating eighteen.

A luckless individual at the start of campaigns has been Arthur Fromme of the Giants. He worked in three openers for the Reds and one for the Cardinals, and defeat was his portion on each occasion.

Irving Melrose Young (Cy II) was delegated three times while with the Braves to pitch the opening battle, and on all three occasions he came through with wins. Once he let his opponents down with a safety. That trick also has been turned on opening day by Walter Johnson, the car winner last season; Frank Paderewski Smith and George Mullin.

Johnson has won two of the three games he has pitched on opening day. So have Jack Coombs, Eddie Plank, Howard Camnitz, Addie Joss and Jeff Overall. Christy Mathewson copped both of the proff contests in which he toiled, as did Babe Adams.

These figures show the way the major league clubs have fared on the opening days of the last ten years and the number of runs they have acquired:

INDIANA MAN IS VICTORIOUS

Butler College Orator Wins Interstate

Oratorical Contest Held at Earlham College.

SEVEN STATES IN THE EVENT

Wisconsin Man Ranks Second and Kansas Entrant Finishes Third —Butler Holds Celebration.

Richmond, Ind., May 16.—Lawrence W. Bridge of Butler college won the fortieth annual interstate oratorical contest here last night, speaking on the subject, "Solving Principles of World Federation." Representatives of the other states in the contest ranked as follows: Second, Wisconsin; third, Kansas; fourth, Iowa; fifth, Ohio; sixth, Michigan; seventh, Missouri.

In his style of delivery and complete mastery of the situation Bridge clearly outclassed any one that appeared on the platform. He was third on the program and throughout his speech he held the closest attention of his audience.

One hundred Butler students, half of them coeds, who accompanied the victorious orator, paraded through the streets of Richmond after the contest, shouting and singing as they went. They took possession of the Westcott Hotel, lined around the foyer and filled the lobby. They continued yelling and singing in the hotel, and were allowed the freedom of the town on their rampage. There probably will be no classes at Butler College today, as the day will be spent in celebrating.

Norman Cawley, representing Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., who won second place, spoke on "The Worth of the Jew."

The order of the other orators is as follows: Third, John W. Scott, "The Toll of Industrialism," Fairmount College, Wichita, Kas.; fourth, Stanley Newell, "The Solving Principle of Industry," Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant, Ia.; fifth, Robert G. Peden, "An International Delusion," Hiram College, Hiram, O.; sixth, Robert J. Hamilton, "The Law's Delay," Olivet College, Olivet, Mich.; seventh, Theodore F. Lentz, "The Scarred Hero of the Dark Continent," Park College, Parkville, Mo.

LADDIE LINK WILL BE OUT IN UNIFORM

Will be Ready to Relieve Patterson Should he go Bad—Arcadians Expects Battle.

MAY LAND LINK FOR SEASON

Everything is in readiness for the game tomorrow with the Indianapolis Specials. The game will be called promptly at two-thirty o'clock. Patterson will start the game in the box for the Arcadians. Laddie Link, one time pitcher for the Indianapolis American association team has promised Manager Fisher that he would come here tomorrow and if he comes he will be out in uniform. Link will talk business to the local management tomorrow and he may be seen the rest of the season in a Rushville uniform. The fans were highly elated at the prospects of getting a better pitcher of Link's ability and if he will play here the fans expect the team to show well against the best of teams.

Link may be put in if Patterson goes bad. The Specials are coming here to give the Arcadians a stiff game and the fans can expect a battle.

orator declared with some enthusiasm. He asserted there are forty thousand "floaters" in the state and that ninety per cent of them are illiterate. He said that in order to get good government the illiteracy of the voters must be reduced.

Walter Richardson of College Corner, after pointing to the fact that the present constitution was written sixty-three years ago, that the state had progressed rapidly and the population had tripled, recalled that Thomas Jefferson said that no constitution should be allowed to exist twenty years. He asserted that not to vote for a new constitution was to vote to maintain the old one, which was practically a vote for slavery and unequal taxation. He referred briefly to many of the political reforms it is desired by included in the new document.

Lyons, the Richmond speaker, had a clear-cut, concise and convincing argument. He overshadowed all of the entrants, not so much with his delivery as with his subject matter and with impression he gave that he was well acquainted with that of which he spoke. He is a finished orator in the sense that it may be used to refer to a high school student. His arguments indicated study of the problem; his language indicated unusual literary talent. Taken as a whole, he is a very accomplished young man.

That he is capable is recognized by the citizens of Richmond. After his speech had been heard, he was invited to present it before the Richmond Commercial Club. So effective was his argument and so convincing was his logic that the club voted him an honorary member and made him a member of the committee on taxation.

He based his argument solely on the taxation system. Lyons asserted that taxation is basic, and since the present system is unjust a new constitution should be adopted for the method of taxation could not be changed in any other way. He declared that the taxpayers are now crying out for justice. Lyons argued that the farmers of the present constitution in 1851 could not realize the needs of the present generation. While some taxpayers are immune, he showed, because of the inequity of the system, a large proportion of property escapes taxation, when the wealthy people are best able to pay.

Lyons suggested six reforms: classification of taxables, exemption of money not drawing interest, exemption of a certain per cent. of personal property and real estate in every case, equalize property valuation, appoint the assessors under civil service and make the assessment on the true cash value up to the taxation limit.

Miss Adeline Class, representing Hancock county, asserted something was needed to stop legislative corruption and that the political evils could not be remedied without reforms which can not be gained unless a new constitution is adopted. Miss Class devoted much of her speech to the political ills rather than the constitution. She referred to unequal taxation and spoken vehemently in favor of woman suffrage. Miss Class asserted men had tried to cure the evils of the day and had failed, and that women should be given a chance. She advocated statewide prohibition, arguing that as county local option was more effective than the township and city plan, even so much more effective would be state prohibition. Miss Class favored also the short ballot, direct primary, initiative, referendum and recall of judicial decisions.

Miss Class decried the reign of the political boss and said the adoption of the political reforms through the adoption of the constitution would eradicate this character in politics. She said that a constitutional convention of honest men should be called. She laid special stress on the word honest.

All of the speakers referred to the uselessness of attempting to gain the needed reforms by amending the present constitution because it provides no amendment shall be introduced while one is being considered.

In rebuttal, Brown declared the short ballot was the most important issue before the people because the ballot makes possible more intelligent voting and places a few candidates conspicuously before the people whereas the present system leads only to confusion. If declared against woman suffrage, which, he said, had not proved helpful in Colorado where it had been tried many years.

Casady, in rebuttal, declared a new constitution was needed primarily to gain justice, to make suffrage harder to gain and to obtain a constitution that is easier to alter.

In defense of his original speech, Richardson said woman suffrage was not practical. He said women could not serve in the army and, therefore, should not be allowed to vote. He said the man with no education has as much interest in the government as the intelligent man.

Lyons said he was discussing the fundamental principle, taxation. He recalled that Rome, the greatest of all nations in its age, fell because of unequal taxation.

Miss Class answered her critics in regard to woman suffrage. She said one of her opponents had referred to the initiative and referendum as simple. She declared that simple government was the need of the day.

REQUISITES OF THE USEFUL 'COSTUME SPORT' ARE STYLE AND PRACTICABILITY

A loose, easy blouse of linen, or other cool wash material; a skirt wide enough at the bottom to allow for a free stride and as few details as possible makes an ideal suit for a day or many days in the country. There are more and more demands for suits and frocks of this description, as we all feel the call of the open air soon as things begin to sprout and days grow longer. Some of the newest outing frocks and suits have turned up hems on the order of a man's trousers, wide patch pockets, and tailored belts; others are on the middie order such as shown in No. 8351-7942, combined with straight skirts. Linen, the heavy cottons, cote de cheval, tweed, homespun and serge are all useful and modish for these suits. Here the blouse is of white linen and the skirt of tweed; two distinctive points in this blouse are the shoulder closing and the raglan sleeves. This suit may be copied in size 36 with 2 3/4 yards of 36-inch material for the blouse (8351) and 2 3/4 yards of 42-inch material for the skirt (7942).

The princess yoke makes this frock of dark-blue serge (8364) unusual; a peasant waist with a V-shaped opening at the throat, is combined with a three-piece skirt in which there is an inset section at the bottom and a princess yoke over which is draped a deep girle.

In size 36, this design requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

OUTBREAK MAY COME ANY TIME

So far Americans in El Paso have not had any Trouble With Mexicans but Spark May Ignite

JUAREZ IS ACROSS BORDER

Hundreds of Gamblers Located There and it is Remarkable That no Outbreaks Have Occured

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., May 16.—All things considered it is rather a remarkable thing that there have not been serious outbreaks between Mexicans and Americans here and in Juarez which is just across a short bridge over the Rio Grande. El Paso's population of 40,000 is largely Mexican, and there are a great many Americans in Juarez. At various times, strained relations between the Constitutionalists of the Federals and the American administration have seemed near the breaking point, and El Pasoans have looked for trouble, that has never come.

It costs only five cents on the trolley line to cross the national boundary into Juarez. In that Mexican city, now controlled by Constitutionalists are gathered hundreds of gamblers from North America, racing men, promoters of cock fights and bull fights, and the usual hangers-on of these amusements.

The racetrack is only a short distance from Juarez. It can be reached in less than an hour from almost any point in El Paso. Instead of being limited to a period of days, the race meetings some times are stretched out over a period of months. It is pointed out here that the easy money of the race track affords considerable augmentation to the funds of the Constitutionalists—or to the Federals; for that matter if the Federals happen to be in power at Juarez.

But the race track is not the only attraction for gamblers and other lovers of "sport" which Juarez holds out. There are the cock fights the roulette wheels, the faro banks, "no limit but the ceiling" poker games, and last and most important of all "Keno."

Keno has all the advantages of a lottery, in that a large number of persons can play at the same time and get instant action. If the "sports" are interested, settlements take place every few minutes. With the odds large because of so many players the winner draws down a considerable pot for the amount invested. In playing this favorite of the Juarezites, every player is given for a small fee, usually ten cents, a card which bears from fifty to one hundred numbers. With one hundred persons taking part, this would make a pot of $10 from which would be deducted the bank's commission.

A "house" employee draws duplicate numbers from a box slowly, calling them out to the waiting men, who have their cards before them, with little bits of gun wadding ready to be stuck on the numbers upon their cards, as these are announced by the caller. The first man to complete a row of three numbers covered with gun wadding shouts "Keno," and he gets the pot.

As in all gambling games, the possibilities for an argument resulting in a general melee are tremendous, especially when the character of the hot blooded Mexicans is taken into consideration. The trouble about a fight is that the Mexicans want to get their knives into action, or indulge in a little shooting, in which latter phase the cowboy element from Texas is only too ready to accommodate them.

Then there is no police force worth of the name in Juarez and in the event of a real riot lasting over a period of days the only appeal which could be made would be to Villa. And many of the Mexicans themselves would rather their city be pulled down about their ears than appeal to him, knowing full well what would probably follow should the soldiers be "turned loose" following the "saying" of the city. They figure that while the city might be saved, it would be saved for the Constitutional soldiers, and not for the inhabitants.

With all the gambling, cockfighting and horseracing that one's heart could wish, if one's heart desires this sort of thing, it is little wonder that a tremendous number of men fond of that sort of thing, the very character of men, usually, who are most prone to trouble of a more serious character, has been drawn to the little Mexican city.

UNVEIL STATUE OF JOHN BARRY

High Officials and Irish-American Societies Join in Paying Tribute to the Late Commodore

PILGRIMAGE TO MT. VERNON.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 16.—High government officials joined today with leaders of Irish-American societies in the unveiling of a $50,000 statue of Commodore John Barry. About this statue commemorating the Revolutionary victor of many a hardfought battle, leaders, paid high tribute. Soldiers, sailors and marines stood at attention as the white shroud was slowly hauled away from the artistic monument designed by John J. Boyle, New York sculptor. Previous to this a pilgrimage was made to Mount Vernon, where the party paid homage to the first president with whom Barry was closely allied. The Glee Club of Friendly Sons of St. Patrick sang at both ceremonies. In today's gathering were governors of Hibernian extraction. Besides them were gathered leaders of Irish-American societies and the men of Westford county, Ireland, Barry's native state, who now dwell in New York and Philadelphia. President Wilson was expected to deliver a brief address if executive business would permit.

Nothing mars or improves the aspect of a room so quickly as does the condition of the covers used on the tables, side-board and bureau. They should always be kept fresh to maintain the neat tidy appearance.

Fine white round-thread linen is appropriate for making a serving-table-cover like the one illustrated here. The conventional flowered border is from transfer pattern 14527, which contains two designs for lingerie pillows for 15 cents. This border is one and one-half inches wide and may be developed in heavily padded solid work and eyelets, combined, or used separately. Fine white mercerized cotton should be used in developing this design for both the flowered border and the scalloped edge.

The scallops are from pattern 14478, which contains six yards and four corners of one-half-inch wide upon the receipt of price.

MORE PRODUCT IMPORTED NOW

Department of Commerce Shows Importation of Manufactured Aluminum Double.

SINCE THE NEW TARIFF BILL

Along With This is Announcement of Decrease in Importation of the Crude Aluminum.

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Washington, May 16.—The increasing use of aluminum in the United States is illustrated by the fact that nearly 27 million pounds of that metal or manufacturers thereof were imported during the last fiscal year, this being almost double the quantity imported in 1910 or 1912 and representing 40 per cent of the entire imports during the decade ended with June, 1913. The imports in the first eight months of the current fiscal year for which returns have been received by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, shows some recession from the high record imports of 1913, so far as applies to crude aluminum, but they are still coming in at a more rapid rate than in 1912 or any prior year. In the eight months ended with February of the last three fiscal years, imports of manufactured aluminum increased from $131,589 in 1912 to $2,728,730 in 1913, receded to 915 in the current year; while those of crude and scrap aluminum, which rose from $1,006,047 in 8 months of 1912 to $2,728 in 1913, receded to $1,864,262 in the current period, their total being, however, considerably above the average level touched during the past ten years.

By far the larger portion of the United States is manufactured in our own factories. Of last year's importations, for example, aggregating 5 million dollars in value, manufactured aluminum represented a total of less than three-quarters of a million, and crude aluminum 4 1/3 million dollars. The importation of upwards of 27 million pounds of crude and other aluminum is merely supplemental to the home product, which has advanced from 11 million pounds in 1908 to 65 1/2 million pounds, valued at 12 million dollars, in 1912. In addition to this, we produce annually from 150,000 to 160,000 tons of bauxite, the ore from which aluminum metal is obtained, the output in 1912 having been 159,865 tons, or treble the figure of 1908.

The extent and variety of the uses of aluminum may be inferred from a consideration of its properties. While it is extremely light only about 2 1/2 times heavier than water—it possesses great malleability, ductility, and tensile strength. It is easily alloyed with other metals, and strongly resists the influences of air, water, and vegetable acids. For these reasons it is to an increasing extent employed in making kitchen utensils, surgical appliances, jewelry, fancy articles, heavy bearings for machinery, etc. In these various forms it is being exported to every grand division of the world, our sales last year being especially heavy in Canada, England, and India. Japan, Australia, Germany and Brazil rank next in value of purchases from us, while sales were recorded in smaller quantities in practically every part of the civilized globe. Of the aluminum manufactures which we import, Germany and England are the important sources. The crude metal is brought from a dozen different countries, 8 1/3 million pounds from Germany, 6 3/4 million from Canada, 4 3/5 million from England, 2 1/2 million from France, 1 million each from Switzerland and Austria-Hungary, slightly less than 1 million each from Belgium and Italy, and the remainder, in the order named, from the Netherlands, Norway, Scotland, and Cuba.

Complete details regarding the character and source of imported aluminum and the countries of destination of aluminum and manufactures thereof exported are contained in Tables 3, 6, and 15 of the annual volume entitled "Commerce and Navy-

igation of the United States, 1913," soon to be issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

MRS. LOLA VARNER IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Wife of Knightstown Man Who Shot Young Hays Several Months Ago Wins Case Easily.

HUSBAND OFFERS NO CONTEST

Mrs. Lola Varner, of Knightstown, was granted a divorce from Albert Varner yesterday in the Henry circuit court. The case was expected to take up most of the day and it was thought that Varner would make a fight as he had twenty-nine witnesses in the court room, but after Mrs. Varner and her two daughters had testified the plaintiff rested and the defendant did not introduce any testimony. Mrs. Varner testified that her husband was in the habit of becoming intoxicated and had made numerous threats to kill her and the rest of the family. Varner, it will be remembered, was tried some time ago for shooting a young man named Hays. He was sentenced and later paroled. Varner conducts a coal and ice business in Charlottesville, but lives in Knightstown.

"General" who Gained "Fame" in Cleveland Administration Would Ameliorate Condition of Poor.

TO ARRIVE IN WASHINGTON

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 16.—"General" James S. Coxey was expected to swoop down on the capital today with his army of unemployed. Emulating his famous march of 1893, he planned to bring here today a vast concourse of "out-of-works." He has declared that he will let the government care for his charges once he gets them to the city. Coxey hoped to get Congress to receive three bills for the amelioration of the condition of the poor. The first proposes a law allowing communities to issue non-interest bonds, borrow money on them from the government and hire the unemployed to beautify and improve the country. His second bill would establish a federal bank in every city to permit loans as legal tender on real estate and chattel property at its face value at 2 per cent tax, and abolish interest. The third would enable the government to issue legal tender money to take over the railroads, telegraphs and telephone lines. Old inhabitants kept a watchful eye today for a possible repetition of Coxey's 1893 experience—arrest for trespass.

Wholesale Indictment by Federal Grand Jury Include Violations of White Slave Act.

AN ITALIAN IS INDICTED

Vito Solomito of Bloomington Says he Acted as Agent of Indianapolis Brewery Peddling Liquor.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., May 16.— Wholesale indictments were returned today by the federal grand jury in its first report since Frank Dailey of Bluffton became district attorney.
The jury has been in session since May 5.

Vito Solomito of Bloomington was indicted, charged with selling liquor without payment of the government tax. He said he merely acted as an agent for the Indianapolis Brewing company in peddling liquor among foreigners in the stone quarries.

Thomas Philips, Fred Robbins and James Welch of Seymour were indicted, charged with stealing shipments of freight cars.

The first indictment in the United States Court under the new migratory bird law came in a bill against Frank Essmeister of Hammond, charged with shooting wild ducks while under annual migratory flight.

Grace Smythe, Michigan City resort keeper, was charged with violating the Munn white slave act by taking two 18-year-old girls from Chicago to Michigan City to live in her resort.

The girls informed the police when they became frightened.

Harry Kimble was also indicted for white slavery on the testimony of his wife, who is 16. She said Kimble brought her here from Cincinnati and placed her in a resort.
When arrested Kimble resisted. He ran and was shot in the leg.

Tonic of Outdoor Life.

Outdoor life, contact with the earth,
the digging, the wheeling of a barrow, even the quiet contemplation of unfolding animal and plant life, are better tonics and restorers than any man has devised.

There was one gardener who did wonders for himself at the very prosaic task of digging holes. Through a period of three years he dug 400 holes for trees and shrubs. He was three times as strong, he asserted, at the expiration of that time than ever before, and he weighed twenty pounds more. The improvement in his attitude toward life was too great to estimate.

During all that time he had been working in the open air he had "found"—although this particular gardener was no poet, and didn't express it in just this fashion—"tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything," including himself.—New York Post.
